U.N. May Protest Reds' Air Buildup

Living Cost Hits New High, Means Rail Wage Boost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Living costs across the nation, continuing an advance that started last February, moved up in August to a record high, 13 per cent above the 1950 pre-Korea level, the government announced today.

The increase of three-tenths per cent, to 115 per cent of the average 1947-1949 base period, means an automatic three cent an hour wage increase for 1,300,000 rail workers next month. Their wage rates are tied to the cost of living index with adjustments being made every three months.

Beef, Veal Prices Jump

The three cent hourly increase, coming on top of a 10 cent rise the rail workers already had gained because of higher living costs, will add an estimated 100 million dollars a year to railroad payrolls.

The largest increase in beef and veal prices in any single month since June, 1948 was one of the factors contributing to the higher index announced today, which measured the change in the cost of living between July 15 and Aug. 15.

Other rising costs which helped push the index up included a one and one-tenth per cent increase in rents, slightly less than a one per cent increase in transportation costs, and fractional advances in the price of medical care, movie theatre admissions and the "other goods and services" category.

Clothing Prices Lower

Somewhat lower over the month were clothing prices, house furnishings and fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Bureau of Labor statistics (BLS), which computes the monthly index by sampling prices of hundreds of items in 46 cities of all sizes, indicated that the end of federal rent controls on July 31 was a major factor in the rent increase.

23 Yanks Reach Neutral Sector

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Thursday Sept. 24 (AP)—Possibly 23 U. S. war prisoners who the Reds say won't go home reach here today amid charges the Communists are violating the truce with an ominous air buildup.

It was believed the United Nations Command was contemplating an official protest charging the Communists brought jet fighters and other planes into North Korea after the armistice.

Lt. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, U. S. 5th Air Force commander, declared in a statement Wednesday: "We have two recent indications that the Communists have violated terms laid down by the truce in introducing warplanes into North Korea."

Conference Held

Later he conferred with all five Allied members of the Military Armistice Commission. An Air Force spokesman insisted the meeting had no connection with Anderson's charges but it appeared certain the matter was discussed.

The Communists in all are delivering more than 300 prisoners who they say have cast their lot with communism. The operation begins at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. Wednesday, EST).

A Communist newsman and the Peiping radio said there will be 23 Americans, 1 British soldier and 335 Koreans. Officially, the Communists have said there will be more than 20 Americans, 1 British and more than 300 Koreans.

The prisoners, brought down from nearby Kaesong, go under the custody of Indian soldiers in a barbed wire stockade.

Planes Sighted On Radar

Anderson said his statement was based on radar sightings "quite recently" and on the word of a North Korean anti-Red pilot who flew his MIG15 to Seoul Monday.

Anderson said there had been "radar observation of fast flying airplanes, obviously jets, originating and terminating in the general Pyongyang (North Korean capital) area."

He made no mention of an Air Force report last July that its radar picked up large numbers of planes flying by night into North Korea after the July 27 deadline for military reinforcements. The armistice forbids a military buildup by either side.

AWOL FROM KOREA — Pvt. Robert E. Drane (above), of the 7th Infantry Division in Korea, went AWOL so he could go to his sister's help in Sacramento, Calif. His sister's husband had deserted her and left her with the care of five children. Drane arrived in Sacramento without being caught and tried to find a job so he could help his sister who thought he was on furlough. She told him to give himself up when she learned he was AWOL. Victims Of Red 'Germ' Charges Land In 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Air Force hope that more men captured in North Korea may be recovered from the Communists sealed the lips of many fliers who returned in the last group of 290 POWs today.

Among those aboard the transport Gen. R. L. Howze were a dozen or more who had been accused by the Reds of conducting "germ warfare," or "biological warfare."

Interviews Prohibited

The word was passed to reporters that the Department of Defense had prohibited interviews with some of the returned prisoners. Others declined to make any statement.

A half dozen or so fliers, the victims of "germ warfare" charges, were hustled by the Air Force to nearby Hamilton Air Force Base almost as soon as the ship docked. They included Col. Walker Mahurin, who previously said he was forced to confess germ war activity two weeks after the armistice was signed; 1st Lt. Kenneth Enoch of Youngstown, Ohio; and Lt. George F. Brooks of Summit, Pa.

Charges "Ridiculous"

1st Lt. Robert Martin, an F80 pilot from Vicksburg, Miss., declared, "The stuff about germ warfare is perfectly ridiculous." However, he added, the Air Force had advised the men not to say anything about the details of the accusations, because there are "still some of our boys up there."

Martin said he had heard the Communists still are holding, somewhere in Manchuria, an Air Force colonel who was a B29 pilot.

Mistake Of Racing Wrong Man Costs Boy $25 In Court

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Sept. 23 (AP) — Eighteen-year-old Daniel Ross Daley of State Line, Pa., didn't know the motorist he was racing on U. S. 11 was a state trooper in his private car.

The mistake cost him $25 in magistrate's court today.

Trooper Glen Bowman said he was driving south of Hagerstown when he tried to pass the car driven by Daley. He said the youth speeded up, but he managed to get by. Seconds later, he said, the youth whipped by him, motioning for a race.

Suddenly the youth noticed the shoulder patch on Bowman's uniform and pulled over, the trooper added.

There was some argument between the two about whether Bowman could make an arrest while driving a private car. He could.

Warriors Clash In Saudi Arabia

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP) — Desert fighting broke out at an isolated Persian Gulf oasis between turbaned warriors loyal to Britain and to Saudi Arabia, spokesmen for the two countries disclosed tonight.

Each side blamed the other for the shooting in which "several deaths" were reported in the disputed oil-rich frontier region last week.

(The Saudi Arabian delegation at the United Nations in New York charged British forces attacked Saudi Arabian civilians with machineguns and tanks causing several casualties. The alleged attacks took place around the oasis of Buraimi.

(The Saudi Arabian government has protested strongly to the British about the incidents, the statement said. The Saudi Arabian delegation described these alleged attacks as acts of aggression and said they were planned to facilitate the settling of British-Saudi Arabian differences over disputed territory.)

Church Built Out Of Old Tombstone

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 23 (AP)—Perhaps the world's first church ever built out of old tombstones and grave markers was opened yesterday in Milan's suburbs.

City law requires that a certain number of the oldest tomb markers be carted away each year to make room for new graves. The discarded markers were gathered for years by the Capucin friars and saved to build the church.

Report Beria Parachuted Into Spain Sets Off Uproar

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 23 (AP)—A story that Lavrenty P. Beria has parachuted into Spain got Madrid up in the air today.

But you couldn't prove from official sources that anybody had seen hide or hair of the Kremlin's most prominent purge victim of 1953.

The national police chief said the whole thing was laughable.

"It looks as though Beria will now be replacing the flying saucers," he said.

The Monarchist newspaper ABC set off the uproar.

Admitting it did not know whether the story was true, ABC published a report that Beria and a number of other Russians jumped several days ago into the Mancha region.

The Mancha region is a flat plateau land in central Spain, devoted chiefly to grain and cattle. Dotted by numerous windmills, it is known to the world as the scene of Don Quixote's windmill jousting in the novel by Cervantes.

ABC explained it assumed no responsibility for the Beria story and published it only because of the bare possibility it might be true.

The story went on to say a number of FBI agents, bearing special credentials signed by Vice President Richard Nixon and a Senate subcommittee, had arrived to escort the former secret police boss to Washington.

This angle ignored the detail that U. S. law restricts the operation of J. Edgar Hoover's agents to the United States.

But Madrilenos were not primarily interested in details. Police headquarters and newspapers were besieged with telephone calls asking one question:

"Is it true Berja is in Sapin?"

The answers ranged from denials to "We know nothing about it."

10 Men Killed As Explosions Shatter Plant

27 Persons Injured By Chemical Blasts At Tonawanda, N. Y.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—At least 10 men were killed today as a series of four explosions blew to bits a chemical plant building here and rocked the northern suburbs of Buffalo. Twenty-seven persons were injured.

The 10th body was recovered early this evening.

Police and firemen searched for more bodies in the smoldering ruins of a building owned by the Lucidol Division of the Novadel-Agene Corp.

12 Believed In Building

Police Chief Elmer C. Mang said he understood there were 12 men in the building when the first blast ripped it apart at 10:18 a.m. (EST).

Authorities said they believed the explosions were in chemical storage tanks, but the precise cause of the blasts was not determined.

Damage was expected to run into millions.

Some bodies were torn apart by the blasts. Two bodies were found 75 feet away from the two-story brick structure, in which a steamfitting crew had been working.

Blasts Heard Six Miles

Lucidol's main building, midway between Tonawanda and Buffalo, had scarcely a whole piece of glass left in it.

The explosions were heard as far away as six miles. They followed each other at intervals over a period of 25 minutes, shattering windows in nearby buildings and showering debris over several blocks in every direction.

Flames leaped high in the air under a mushroom cloud of heavy, black smoke that witnesses said resembled photographs of atomic explosions.

Canada Outlines Korean Policies

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—Canada served notice today its troops will not fight to unify Korea by force. It favors a negotiated settlement of the Korean problem, U. N. supervision of elections to choose a government for unified Korea, withdrawal of all foreign troops, and an international guarantee for Korea's safety.

These views were outlined to the U. N. Assembly by Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson, closely concerned with the Korean problem since it first came before the U. N. even before the Korean War. His statement was seen as Canada's answer to reports that South Korean President Syngman Rhee wants to resume the war and try to unify Korea by force of arms if the proposed peace conference does not produce results within 90 days after its start.

"So far as the Candian government is concerned," Pearson said, "We will not support any military action in Korea that is not United Nations action, and we would be opposed to any attempt to interpret existing United Nations objectives as including the unification of Korea by force. On the other hand, we are aware that the signing of an armistice does not discharge us from obligations we have already taken in Korea as a member of the United Nations."

Man 'Out To Get' Sheriff Is Slain

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 23 (AP)—A heavily armed, 49-year-old gunman, who boasted he was "out to get the sheriff", was shot to death on the courthouse steps here today in a gun battle with the sheriff and a deputy.

He was identified by Butler County authorities as J. W. Maggart of Bishop, Calif.

Sheriff William Brent said Maggart fired four times from the courthouse steps as he and Deputy John Huff crossed through the business section of this southeast Missouri city toward the courthouse.

Maggart's shots missed Brent and Huff, who felled Maggart with their return fire. He was wounded six times, his body sprawled across the steps.

Three revolvers were found on the body. Maggart also wore a money belt, shattered by the lawmen's bullets. It contained what Brent termed a sizeable amount of cash.

Life-Saving Grip

Her right wrist and arm clasped firmly by Chicago Fire Marshal James R. Hughes (white hair), Millicent Armin, 36, is pulled to safety from the 20th floor ledge of the Chicago Tribune Tower. The woman sought to leap to her death but was grabbed by Hughes when she was talked into reaching to pat her dog. (Story at bottom of page)

"Handicapped Man Of Year" Honored By Ike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower gave double-barreled support today to programs to rehabilitate the physically handicapped.

Speaking briefly at a meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, the President (1) said no military man could escape deep concern over the plight of those disabled in war; and (2) emphasized with an example that a physically handicapped man still can be very useful.

Story Goes Back To 1944

The story he told dated back to 1944, when Eisenhower was supreme commander of World War II Allied Forces in Europe. It was this:

Eisenhower was dissatisfied with the work an Army corps was doing and asked Gen. George C. Marshall, then chief of staff, for a certain officer to take command.

Marshall agreed that Eisenhower's choice was a good man, but pointed out he was in a hospital with arthritis. But Eisenhower said:

"It's the head and heart of the man I want, not his knees. I'll carry him to battle on a litter if necessary."

He got his man, the President related, and despite the physical handicap the new corps commander gave a brilliant performance.

Detroit Publisher Honored

At the committee meeting, Eisenhower presented a gold and silver trophy to Harry E. Smithson, Detroit publisher and advertising man who has been selected as the "Handicapped Man of the Year."

Smithson broke his back in a 1926 automobile accident and has been unable to walk since. But he learned to drive a specially equipped automobile, built a successful advertising business, and also breeds and sells parakeets. He gave the President one of the birds today.

Haymes Gets Divorce, Weds Rita Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 23 (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes got a divorce in seven minutes today from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, then two hours later obtained a license to wed Rita Hayworth.

They plan to marry tomorrow.

Told that four minutes is the local record for an unhitching in this quickie divorce today, Haymes told a reporter:

"If I had known I had a chance for the record, I would have talked faster."

Ceylon-Red China Pact

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Communist China and the British commonwealth island of Ceylon have signed a new rice-for-rubber trade agreement, Peiping radio reported today.

Cabbie's Honesty Gives Nation Boost

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP) — Three weeks ago, cab driver Joseph J. Burns found a purse with $280 in his cab. He went to a lot of trouble to return it to its owners, Milagros Crespo, 11, and Mercedes Colster, 13, visitors here from Venezuela.

Today, Burns, 26, received this letter from the U. S. Embassy in Caracas, Venezuela:

"There are enclosed herewith two clippings from the Caracas newspaper, El Nacional, giving an account of your honesty in connection with the return of a pocketbook to a little Venezuelan girl. This newspaper is not customarily friendly to the United States and your action has resulted in publicity favorable to our country.

"... These clippings ... show how your honest act reflects credit on the United States."

McCarthy Again Blasts Britain

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) urged today that the United States withhold aid to Great Britain unless she stops shipping to Red China.

"We do not want allies who cringe and surrender in the face of an enemy threat or who lick the enemy's hand and furnish him with weapons of war," he said in a speech here.

This was a renewal of blasts that McCarthy delivered on the same topic last May. At that time, he said "let's sink every accursed ship carrying materials that result in the death of American boys."

McCarthy, addressing a convention of the American Institute of Wholesale Plumbing and Heating Supply Associations today, displayed a London newspaper clipping.

He quoted it as reporting an increase in shipments of goods from Britain to Red China before the Korean truce.

Dog Succeeds Where Pleas Fail As Woman Is Rescued

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—A dog named Lucky enabled rescuers today to lure and then rescue a woman who was poised to leap from the 20th floor ledge of a Michigan Ave. skyscraper.

Thousands of Chicagions witnessed the dramatic rescue from streets, windows and rooftops while other thousands in various parts of the country viewed it on their television screens.

The woman, Millicent Armin, 36, climbed onto the 18-inch wide ledge from a window in an advertising agency after babbling that she didn't want to live because "They have gassed me night after night" and "cut my dog's foot."

Her dog is Lucky, her pet boxer.

For nearly two hours, police, firemen, a priest and office workers called appeals from a fire escape for her to reconsider and go inside.

A policeman got the closest to her during that time. He pushed a cup of coffee toward her on the ledge and she asked for sugar and cream.

Meanwhile, her father, Sigmund, 73, who had been waiting in a taxi, went to their home and got Lucky.

Fire Marshal James R. Hughes brought Lucky to the window for the woman to see. She reached out to stroke the dog and Hughes grabbed her wrist and hauled her inside.

Hughes conceived the idea of having Lucky brought to the scene after hearing her murmur, "Lucky is the only friend I have."

She was taken to the fifth floor of the skyscraper, the Tribune Tower, given a sedative, and then was taken by ambulance to the psychopathic hospital.

W. Berlin Mayor Is Turned Back By Soviet Guards

BERLIN, Sept. 23 (AP) — West Berlin's Lord Mayor Ernst Reuter was turned back by Soviet zone border guards today at Lauenberg on his way to a meeting in Hamburg. The guards contended his travel papers were not in order.

Reuter, his wife and chauffeur returned to West Berlin tonight after a nine-hour round trip through the Soviet zone.

The incident was first reported by inter-zonal travelers at Lauenberg. The trip from Berlin to Hamburg necessitates crossing part of the Soviet zone and then back into the Western zone.

The Soviet zone guards were reported to have told Reuter he could not pass because his documents didn't list his home address.

U. N. 'Necessity' In Atomic Age, President Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United Nations has become a "sheer necessity" in the face of terrible new weapons of mass destruction.

Speaking in the White House rose garden, the President told members of the U. S. Committee for United Nations Day:

"With all its defects, and with all the failures that we can chalk up against it, it (the U.N.) still represents man's best organized hope to substitute the conference table for the battlefield."

Reference To H-Bomb

Then, in an obvious reference to the hydrogen bomb and other ultra-modern weapons, Eisenhower declared:

"In these days, when every new invention of the scientists seems to make it more nearly possible for man to insure his own elimination from this globe, I think the United Nations has become sheer necessity."

More than 200 members of the committee heard the President's informal talk. Committee Chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines Corp., told Eisenhower the delegation represented 82 national organizations and a total membership of some 35 million Americans.

Has Faith In U. N.

In reply, Eisenhower told the group:

"There is obviously one deep and abiding bond that joins us together—you have faith and belief in the United Nations, and so do I.

"It has had its failures, but it has had its successes. Who knows what could have happened in these past years of strain and struggle if we hadn't had the United Nations?"

Dean 'Terribly Tired' After His Homecoming

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 23 (AP)—Without notable success, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean tried today to settle back into the life of a family man.

The fighting hero of Taejon, captive for three years in a North Korean prison camp, arrived by plane late last night at nearby Travis Air Force Base. Then, at his home here, came the reunion with his family who for so many months had prayed for his safe return.

His wife, pretty Mildred Dean, told reporters today the general was "terribly tired" after his emotion-packed homecoming.

She sought to protect him from the many who almost engulfed the family home.

Eisenhower Tells AFL Act Has 'Defects'

President Never Guilty Of Breaking Word, Nixon Says

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today in a message to the AFL convention that the Taft-Hartley Act is essentially sound but has "a number of defects" he will ask Congress next January to change.

Eisenhower's message which was read to delegates by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, made no reference to the controversy stirred up by AFL leader Martin P. Durkin's recent resignation as secretary of labor.

Nixon, however, in remarks of his own, told the convention Eisenhower never broke his word with Durkin on T-H law changes as Durkin has charged.

'I know Martin Durkin, and I also know the President of the United States," Nixon said, "and I consider them both to be honorable men.

"Misunderstanding"

"There may have been a misunderstanding, but in 40 years of service to his country ... Dwight Eisenhower has never been guilty of breaking his solemnly given word on anything. And I don't believe that anyone can claim that he broke his word in this instance."

Durkin, seated among delegates close to the platform from which Nixon spoke, afterward went up and shook hands with the vice president. But the resigned Cabinet member said he still stood on what he said before.

Durkin told the convention yesterday he had a face-to-face promise from Eisenhower to support 19 specific T-H amendments and to recommend them to Congress. He said three weeks later Eisenhower told him he "could no longer go along" with the claimed agreement.

Study Not Completed

Eisenhower's convention message said an administration study of changes needed in the Taft-Hartley act is "not as yet completed" but there is "substantial accord on a heartening number" of proposed amendments.

Eisenhower said the objectives of the administration's "critical study" of the T-H law are:

"1. To remedy defects which cause concern on the part of working men and women over possible results or uses of the act to their detriment;

"2. To insure administration of the act in the manner that is efficient, speedy, and impartial;

"3. To allow freedom for the healthy growth of trade unions, while respecting the legitimate rights of individual workers, their employers, and the general public;

"4. To work to the end that there be less rather than more government interference in labor-management affairs."

Boy Views Body Of Girl He Killed

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio, Sept. 23 (AP)—A 19-year-old college boy was taken to a funeral home here today to view the body of his sweetheart whom he is accused of murdering.

Roy R. Schinagle Jr., who wants to be a minister glanced at the dead girl - 19 - year old Cynthia Pfeil, of White Plains, N. Y.

He turned quickly away and put a hand to his face.

Sheriff Dean McAllister asked: "Does this look like the girl?"

The youth nodded his head.

Prosecutor Harold Roth said he would charge the former high school athlete from Mayfield Heights with first degree murder.

Tonight, the body of the coed will be shipped by train in a plain gray coffin to White Plains.

Schinagle, ROTC air cadet and sophomore at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, who police say confessed the strangle slaying, took McAllister and other officers along what they called a "murder trail." The tour lasted late into the day.

AFL Leaders' Pay Hiked

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—The AFL convention today voted $10,000 annual salary boosts for the labor organization's President George Meany and Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler.

10 Men Killed As Explosions Shatter Plant

27 Persons Injured By Chemical Blasts At Tonawanda, N. Y.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—At least 10 men were killed today as a series of four explosions blew to bits a chemical plant building here and rocked the northern suburbs of Buffalo. Twenty-seven persons were injured.

The 10th body was recovered early this evening.

Police and firemen searched for more bodies in the smoldering ruins of a building owned by the Lucidol Division of the Novadel-Agene Corp.

12 Believed In Building

Police Chief Elmer C. Mang said he understood there were 12 men in the building when the first blast ripped it apart at 10:18 a.m. (EST).

Authorities said they believed the explosions were in chemical storage tanks, but the precise cause of the blasts was not determined.

Damage was expected to run into millions.

Some bodies were torn apart by the blasts. Two bodies were found 75 feet away from the two-story brick structure, in which a steamfitting crew had been working.

Blasts Heard Six Miles

Lucidol's main building, midway between Tonawanda and Buffalo, had scarcely a whole piece of glass left in it.

The explosions were heard as far away as six miles. They followed each other at intervals over a period of 25 minutes, shattering windows in nearby buildings and showering debris over several blocks in every direction.

Flames leaped high in the air under a mushroom cloud of heavy, black smoke that witnesses said resembled photographs of atomic explosions.

Canada Outlines Korean Policies

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—Canada served notice today its troops will not fight to unify Korea by force. It favors a negotiated settlement of the Korean problem, U. N. supervision of elections to choose a government for unified Korea, withdrawal of all foreign troops, and an international guarantee for Korea's safety.

These views were outlined to the U. N. Assembly by Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson, closely concerned with the Korean problem since it first came before the U. N. even before the Korean War. His statement was seen as Canada's answer to reports that South Korean President Syngman Rhee wants to resume the war and try to unify Korea by force of arms if the proposed peace conference does not produce results within 90 days after its start.

"So far as the Candian government is concerned," Pearson said, "We will not support any military action in Korea that is not United Nations action, and we would be opposed to any attempt to interpret existing United Nations objectives as including the unification of Korea by force. On the other hand, we are aware that the signing of an armistice does not discharge us from obligations we have already taken in Korea as a member of the United Nations."

Man 'Out To Get' Sheriff Is Slain

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 23 (AP)—A heavily armed, 49-year-old gunman, who boasted he was "out to get the sheriff", was shot to death on the courthouse steps here today in a gun battle with the sheriff and a deputy.

He was identified by Butler County authorities as J. W. Maggart of Bishop, Calif.

Sheriff William Brent said Maggart fired four times from the courthouse steps as he and Deputy John Huff crossed through the business section of this southeast Missouri city toward the courthouse.

Maggart's shots missed Brent and Huff, who felled Maggart with their return fire. He was wounded six times, his body sprawled across the steps.

Three revolvers were found on the body. Maggart also wore a money belt, shattered by the lawmen's bullets. It contained what Brent termed a sizeable amount of cash.

Church Built Out Of Old Tombstone

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 23 (AP)—Perhaps the world's first church ever built out of old tombstones and grave markers was opened yesterday in Milan's suburbs.

City law requires that a certain number of the oldest tomb markers be carted away each year to make room for new graves. The discarded markers were gathered for years by the Capucin friars and saved to build the church.

Report Beria Parachuted Into Spain Sets Off Uproar

MADRID, Spain, Sept. 23 (AP)—A story that Lavrenty P. Beria has parachuted into Spain got Madrid up in the air today.

But you couldn't prove from official sources that anybody had seen hide or hair of the Kremlin's most prominent purge victim of 1953.

The national police chief said the whole thing was laughable.

"It looks as though Beria will now be replacing the flying saucers," he said.

The Monarchist newspaper ABC set off the uproar.

Admitting it did not know whether the story was true, ABC published a report that Beria and a number of other Russians jumped several days ago into the Mancha region.

The Mancha region is a flat plateau land in central Spain, devoted chiefly to grain and cattle. Dotted by numerous windmills, it is known to the world as the scene of Don Quixote's windmill jousting in the novel by Cervantes.

ABC explained it assumed no responsibility for the Beria story and published it only because of the bare possibility it might be true.

The story went on to say a number of FBI agents, bearing special credentials signed by Vice President Richard Nixon and a Senate subcommittee, had arrived to escort the former secret police boss to Washington.

This angle ignored the detail that U. S. law restricts the operation of J. Edgar Hoover's agents to the United States.

But Madrilenos were not primarily interested in details. Police headquarters and newspapers were besieged with telephone calls asking one question:

"Is it true Beria is in Sapin?"

The answers ranged from denials to "We know nothing about it."

Life-Saving Grip

Her right wrist and arm clasped firmly by Chicago Fire Marshal James R. Hughes (white hair), Millicent Armin, 36, is pulled to safety from the 20th floor ledge of the Chicago Tribune Tower. The woman sought to leap to her death but was grabbed by Hughes when she was talked into reaching to pat her dog. (Story at bottom of page)

"Handicapped Man Of Year" Honored By Ike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower gave double-barreled support today to programs to rehabilitate the physically handicapped.

Speaking briefly at a meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, the President (1) said no military man could escape deep concern over the plight of those disabled in war; and (2) emphasized with an example that a physically handicapped man still can be very useful.

Story Goes Back To 1944

The story he told dated back to 1944, when Eisenhower was supreme commander of World War II Allied Forces in Europe. It was this:

Eisenhower was dissatisfied with the work an Army corps was doing and asked Gen. George C. Marshall, then chief of staff, for a certain officer to take command.

Marshall agreed that Eisenhower's choice was a good man, but pointed out he was in a hospital with arthritis. But Eisenhower said:

"It's the head and heart of the man I want, not his knees. I'll carry him to battle on a litter if necessary."

He got his man, the President related, and despite the physical handicap the new corps commander gave a brilliant performance.

Detroit Publisher Honored

At the committee meeting, Eisenhower presented a gold and silver trophy to Harry E. Smithson, Detroit publisher and advertising man who has been selected as the "Handicapped Man of the Year."

Smithson broke his back in a 1926 automobile accident and has been unable to walk since. But he learned to drive a specially equipped automobile, built a successful advertising business, and also breeds and sells parakeets. He gave the President one of the birds today.

Haymes Gets Divorce, Weds Rita Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 23 (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes got a divorce in seven minutes today from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, then two hours later obtained a license to wed Rita Hayworth.

They plan to marry tomorrow.

Told that four minutes is the local record for an unhitching in this quickie divorce today, Haymes told a reporter:

"If I had known I had a chance for the record, I would have talked faster."

Ceylon-Red China Pact

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Communist China and the British commonwealth island of Ceylon have signed a new rice-for-rubber trade agreement, Peiping radio reported today.

Cabbie's Honesty Gives Nation Boost

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP) — Three weeks ago, cab driver Joseph J. Burns found a purse with $280 in his cab. He went to a lot of trouble to return it to its owners, Milagros Crespo, 11, and Mercedes Colster, 13, visitors here from Venezuela.

Today, Burns, 26, received this letter from the U. S. Embassy in Caracas, Venezuela:

"There are enclosed herewith two clippings from the Caracas newspaper, El Nacional, giving an account of your honesty in connection with the return of a pocketbook to a little Venezuelan girl. This newspaper is not customarily friendly to the United States and your action has resulted in publicity favorable to our country.

"... These clippings ... show how your honest act reflects credit on the United States."

McCarthy Again Blasts Britain

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) urged today that the United States withhold aid to Great Britain unless she stops shipping to Red China.

"We do not want allies who cringe and surrender in the face of an enemy threat or who lick the enemy's hand and furnish him with weapons of war," he said in a speech here.

This was a renewal of blasts that McCarthy delivered on the same topic last May. At that time, he said "let's sink every accursed ship carrying materials that result in the death of American boys."

McCarthy, addressing a convention of the American Institute of Wholesale Plumbing and Heating Supply Associations today, displayed a London newspaper clipping.

He quoted it as reporting an increase in shipments of goods from Britain to Red China before the Korean truce.

W. Berlin Mayor Is Turned Back By Soviet Guards

BERLIN, Sept. 23 (AP) — West Berlin's Lord Mayor Ernst Reuter was turned back by Soviet zone border guards today at Lauenberg on his way to a meeting in Hamburg. The guards contended his travel papers were not in order.

Reuter, his wife and chauffeur returned to West Berlin tonight after a nine-hour round trip through the Soviet zone.

The incident was first reported by inter-zonal travelers at Lauenberg. The trip from Berlin to Hamburg necessitates crossing part of the Soviet zone and then back into the Western zone.

The Soviet zone guards were reported to have told Reuter he could not pass because his documents didn't list his home address.

U. N. 'Necessity' In Atomic Age, President Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United Nations has become a "sheer necessity" in the face of terrible new weapons of mass destruction.

Speaking in the White House rose garden, the President told members of the U. S. Committee for United Nations Day:

"With all its defects, and with all the failures that we can chalk up against it, it (the U.N.) still represents man's best organized hope to substitute the conference table for the battlefield."

Reference To H-Bomb

Then, in an obvious reference to the hydrogen bomb and other ultra-modern weapons, Eisenhower declared:

"In these days, when every new invention of the scientists seems to make it more nearly possible for man to insure his own elimination from this globe, I think the United Nations has become sheer necessity."

More than 200 members of the committee heard the President's informal talk. Committee Chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines Corp., told Eisenhower the delegation represented 82 national organizations and a total membership of some 35 million Americans.

Has Faith In U. N.

In reply, Eisenhower told the group:

"There is obviously one deep and abiding bond that joins us together—you have faith and belief in the United Nations, and so do I.

"It has had its failures, but it has had its successes. Who knows what could have happened in these past years of strain and struggle if we hadn't had the United Nations?"

Dean 'Terribly Tired' After His Homecoming

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 23 (AP)—Without notable success, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean tried today to settle back into the life of a family man.

The fighting hero of Taejon, captive for three years in a North Korean prison camp, arrived by plane late last night at nearby Travis Air Force Base. Then, at his home here, came the reunion with his family who for so many months had prayed for his safe return.

His wife, pretty Mildred Dean, told reporters today the general was "terribly tired" after his emotion-packed homecoming.

She sought to protect him from the many who almost engulfed the family home.

Dog Succeeds Where Pleas Fail As Woman Is Rescued

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—A dog named Lucky enabled rescuers today to lure and then rescue a woman who was poised to leap from the 20th floor ledge of a Michigan Ave. skyscraper.

Thousands of Chicagions witnessed the dramatic rescue from streets, windows and rooftops while other thousands in various parts of the country viewed it on their television screens.

The woman, Millicent Armin, 36, climbed onto the 18-inch wide ledge from a window in an advertising agency after babbling that she didn't want to live because "They have gassed me night after night" and "cut my dog's foot."

Her dog is Lucky, her pet boxer.

For nearly two hours, police, firemen, a priest and office workers called appeals from a fire escape for her to reconsider and go inside.

A policeman got the closest to her during that time. He pushed a cup of coffee toward her on the ledge and she asked for sugar and cream.

Meanwhile, her father, Sigmund, 73, who had been waiting in a taxi, went to their home and got Lucky.

Fire Marshal James R. Hughes brought Lucky to the window for the woman to see. She reached out to stroke the dog and Hughes grabbed her wrist and hauled her inside.

Hughes conceived the idea of having Lucky brought to the scene after hearing her murmur, "Lucky is the only friend I have."

She was taken to the fifth floor of the skyscraper, the Tribune Tower, given a sedative, and then was taken by ambulance to the psychopathic hospital.

Eisenhower Tells AFL Act Has 'Defects'

President Never Guilty Of Breaking Word, Nixon Says

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today in a message to the AFL convention that the Taft-Hartley Act is essentially sound but has "a number of defects" he will ask Congress next January to change.

Eisenhower's message which was read to delegates by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, made no reference to the controversy stirred up by AFL leader Martin P. Durkin's recent resignation as secretary of labor.

Nixon, however, in remarks of his own, told the convention Eisenhower never broke his word with Durkin on T-H law changes as Durkin has charged.

'I know Martin Durkin, and I also know the President of the United States," Nixon said, "and I consider them both to be honorable men.

"Misunderstanding"

"There may have been a misunderstanding, but in 40 years of service to his country ... Dwight Eisenhower has never been guilty of breaking his solemnly given word on anything. And I don't believe that anyone can claim that he broke his word in this instance."

Durkin, seated among delegates close to the platform from which Nixon spoke, afterward went up and shook hands with the vice president. But the resigned Cabinet member said he still stood on what he said before.

Durkin told the convention yesterday he had a face-to-face promise from Eisenhower to support 19 specific T-H amendments and to recommend them to Congress. He said three weeks later Eisenhower told him he "could no longer go along" with the claimed agreement.

Study Not Completed

Eisenhower's convention message said an administration study of changes needed in the Taft-Hartley act is "not as yet completed" but there is "substantial accord on a heartening number" of proposed amendments.

Eisenhower said the objectives of the administration's "critical study" of the T-H law are:

"1. To remedy defects which cause concern on the part of working men and women over possible results or uses of the act to their detriment;

"2. To insure administration of the act in the manner that is efficient, speedy, and impartial;

"3. To allow freedom for the healthy growth of trade unions, while respecting the legitimate rights of individual workers, their employers, and the general public;

"4. To work to the end that there be less rather than more government interference in labor-management affairs."

Boy Views Body Of Girl He Killed

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio, Sept. 23 (AP)—A 19-year-old college boy was taken to a funeral home here today to view the body of his sweetheart whom he is accused of murdering.

Roy R. Schinagle Jr., who wants to be a minister glanced at the dead girl - 19 - year old Cynthia Pfeil, of White Plains, N. Y.

He turned quickly away and put a hand to his face.

Sheriff Dean McAllister asked: "Does this look like the girl?"

The youth nodded his head.

Prosecutor Harold Roth said he would charge the former high school athlete from Mayfield Heights with first degree murder.

Tonight, the body of the coed will be shipped by train in a plain gray coffin to White Plains.

Schinagle, ROTC air cadet and sophomore at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, who police say confessed the strangle slaying, took McAllister and other officers along what they called a "murder trail." The tour lasted late into the day.

AFL Leaders' Pay Hiked

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—The AFL convention today voted $10,000 annual salary boosts for the labor organization's President George Meany and Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler.

Bankers Would Widen Markets To World Trade

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—The American Bankers Association (ABA) said today the United States, as the world's greatest creditor, should "open its markets increasingly to foreign goods."

The foreign trade resolution, unanimously voted, was coupled at the association's 79th annual convention with an endorsement of the Eisenhower administration's drive to balance the federal budget. This, the bankers said, is "essential to the maintenance of a strong and stable economy."

The four-day meeting ended with election of Everett D. Reese as president. Reese, president of the Park National Bank of Newark, Ohio, announced that the 80th convention will be held Oct. 17-20, 1954, in Atlantic City, N. J.

In a brief talk accepting leadership of ABA's 16,800 banks and branches, Reese urged bankers and businessmen to prove that free enterprise can "maintain good levels of employment and activity without war or government assistance."

Four Persons Killed In Head-On Car Crash

LAUREL, Md., Sept. 23 (AP)—Four persons were killed today in a head-on collision on the Washington-Baltimore boulevard between a car sought by police and another automobile on the way to a hospital.

A fifth person, Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, 42, of Laurel, was seriously injured. Two of her daughters were killed.

Mrs. Mills, in Leland Memorial Hospital, Riverdale, tonight was reported "satisfactory—her condition is improving." She suffered head and internal injuries and two fractured legs.

You'd Have To Make Million To Match Refugee MIG Pilot

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—For real nice take-home pay, you can't beat flying a Russian plane into a United Nations airport.

The 22-year-old senior North Korean lieutenant who did it, bringing a MIG15 to an airstrip near Seoul, picks up the $100,000 reward this government had offered anyone who first delivered a Russian plane.

Let's take a look at what that $100,000 means:

The internal revenue people have said it is tax free, even if the pilot should come here, since it was income earned outside the United States.

Furthermore, in answer to a question, they figured out that anyone in this country who is single, with no dependents, would have to earn $940,550 in a year to have $100,000 left after federal taxes.

"Of course," said the income tax man, "he probably would be nicked by state taxes, and maybe by city taxes. He undoubtedly would have to make well over a million dollars."

The income tax people don't announce figures on personal income, but it's a safe bet that not many 22-year-olds make a million a year. And it's money in the bank that no 22-year-old is picking up that amount in 24 minutes, which is how long the dramatic flight lasted.

The only incomes announced are those paid by some corporations which have to report to the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

In 1950, for example, the highest salary reported to SEC was the $626,300 paid by General Motors to Charles E. Wilson, now secretary of defense.

This, of course, was before the tax collector got to Wilson.

Man Is Accused Of Perjury Based On Case In 1932

FREDERICK, Sept. 23 (AP)—State police today arrested a former Thurmont man on charges of perjury dating back 21 years as the man walked away after testifying before the grand jury.

John Cheesemyer, alias Justav Myers and Richard J. Burns, was held under $5,000 bond at state police barracks.

The warrant charges Cheesemyer, known as Burns in Thurmont, with three counts of perjury in a divorce trial in Frederick County Circuit Court Aug. 1, 1932.

He is alleged to have falsely stated he hadn't seen his wife, Mary Myers, for some time; that he didn't have any children by her, and that he had been living in Thurmont since 1920.

Judges Clear Chief Of Police

SALISBURY, Md., Sept. 23 (AP)—The three judges of the First Judicial Circuit ruled today that Pocomoke City Police Chief Arthur W. Brittingham was blameless when he blackjacked a disabled war veteran in an arrest attempt last April.

The 61-year-old officer was charged with assaulting the veteran, 28-year-old John O. Blades, and a friend, William T. White Jr., 24, both of Snow Hill.

Brittingham admitted in testimony that he struck Blades with a blackjack during a scuffle outside a Pocomoke tavern on April 4. He denied, however, that he choked White.

After the incident, Blades was charged with drunken driving, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. The latter two charges were also filed against White.

State Police Head Probes Ticket "Fixing" Complaint

PIKESVILLE, Md. Sept. 23 (AP)—The superintendent of state police said today he was investigating complaints of a state trooper that an assistant state's attorney from Prince Georges County "fixed" a speeding ticket for a Baltimore man.

Col. Elmer S. Munshower said the matter was not reported directly to him, "as it should have been," and the first he knew of it was through newspaper reports.

The complaint came from Trooper W. R. Carpenter of the Waterloo barracks. He made it in writing under the heading of "Remarks" on the back of a disposition slip filled out for transmittal to the statistical bureau of state police.

The assistant state's attorney, Grover Small, was in Martinsburg, W. Va. today arranging for the funeral of his father, Ralph N. Small, who died in Veterans Hospital there.

Police Judge Theodore L. Miazga said Small "has been consistently opposed to nolle prossing tickets and believes in bringing every case possible into court."

He added, however, that he knew nothing of the circumstances involving the case under complaint.

State's Attorney Carlyle J. Lancaster said he knew nothing of the matter but promised a prompt investigation.

Ike Speech Writer Quits

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Emmet J. Hughes, President Eisenhower's chief speech writer, resigned today to rejoin the editorial staff of Life magazine.

Aviation Review Ordered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered a comprehensive review of civil aviation in the United States.

He asked Robert B. Murray, chairman of the Air Co-ordinating Committee, to make such a review so the public and the aviation industry can get "a clear and comprehensive statement of the aviation policies of this administration."

Judges Clear Chief Of Police

SALISBURY, Md., Sept. 23 (AP)—The three judges of the First Judicial Circuit ruled today that Pocomoke City Police Chief Arthur W. Brittingham was blameless when he blackjacked a disabled war veteran in an arrest attempt last April.

The 61-year-old officer was charged with assaulting the veteran, 28-year-old John O. Blades, and a friend, William T. White Jr., 24, both of Snow Hill.

Brittingham admitted in testimony that he struck Blades with a blackjack during a scuffle outside a Pocomoke tavern on April 4. He denied, however, that he choked White.

After the incident, Blades was charged with drunken driving, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. The latter two charges were also filed against White.

State Police Head Probes Ticket "Fixing" Complaint

PIKESVILLE, Md. Sept. 23 (AP)—The superintendent of state police said today he was investigating complaints of a state trooper that an assistant state's attorney from Prince Georges County "fixed" a speeding ticket for a Baltimore man.

Col. Elmer S. Munshower said the matter was not reported directly to him, "as it should have been," and the first he knew of it was through newspaper reports.

The complaint came from Trooper W. R. Carpenter of the Waterloo barracks. He made it in writing under the heading of "Remarks" on the back of a disposition slip filled out for transmittal to the statistical bureau of state police.

The assistant state's attorney, Grover Small, was in Martinsburg, W. Va. today arranging for the funeral of his father, Ralph N. Small, who died in Veterans Hospital there.

Police Judge Theodore L. Miazga said Small "has been consistently opposed to nolle prossing tickets and believes in bringing every case possible into court."

He added, however, that he knew nothing of the circumstances involving the case under complaint.

State's Attorney Carlyle J. Lancaster said he knew nothing of the matter but promised a prompt investigation.

Mobile Blood Unit To Visit Here October 6

The next visit in Allegany County of the mobile blood unit of the Johnstown (Pa.) Regional Headquarters will be on Monday and Tuesday, October 5 and 6, Red Cross officials announce.

On the first day of the visit, the unit will be at the home of Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in Lonaconing. The local headquarters for the visit on the following day will be at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street. Blood will be collected at both places between noon and 6 p. m.

The quota for each visit is 150 pints, officials stated. And although the quotas will try to be met by registered volunteers, it was stressed that "walk-ins" will be welcomed at both county stops.

Additional persons are expected to become members of the "Gallon Club" during the local visit, and 14 will become members of the "Half-Gallon Club" at Lonaconing. Residents of Barton, Midland, Nikep, Gilmore and Moscow will be processed on the day of the first county stop.

In an appeal for support of the blood program, Red Cross officials explained that its project still services the armed forces and stressed that a large portion of the blood collected will be earmarked for the stockpiling of gamma globulin in the fight against polio.

Persons wishing to volunteer and be assigned a definite time for donating blood should contact Red Cross headquarters in the Post Office Building.

U. N. And U. S. Reds

The new hearings of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in New York will involve 11 American citizens, formerly employed in the U.N. secretariat, who were fired for availing themselves of the protection of the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination in earlier appearances before congressional committees.

The 11 are among 29 who were fired last year by former U.N. Secretary General Lie for refusing to answer questions at U. S. proceedings or on the basis of information supplied by the United States. Lie's actions were supported on November 30, 1952, by the findings of a three-member international legal panel. But on the following December 10 the Internal Security subcommittee was informed by the State Department that 14 other U. S. citizens against whom "adverse comments" had been filed still were employed by the U.N.

The case bounded back to public attention last September 1, when the Administrative Tribunal, highest U.N. legal authority on administration, ruled that 11 of the previous dismissals had been illegal. It ordered that four persons be reinstated with back pay, and that damages be paid nine others who had not held permanent contracts. The new secretary general, Dag Hammarskjold, refused to restore the four to their jobs and asked the tribunal to set damage awards for them. A spokesman for the U. S. delegation to the U.N. called Hammarskjold's action "right and within his prerogatives."

U. S. citizens of questionable beliefs or affiliations obtained jobs in the U.N.'s international civil service beginning in 1946, when Governor Byrnes of South Carolina, then secretary of State, took the position that it was not his duty to advise the secretary general on U. S. citizens seeking employment. "Under the United Nations Charter and the regulations of the General Assembly," Byrnes has explained, "the secretary general had the exclusive and full authority to hire and fire U.N. employes and was not obligated to follow our recommendations. Therefore I did not want to make any recommendations."

The same position was maintained under Secretary of State Marshall. But in 1949 Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary General Lie agreed that if Lie had any doubts about the loyalty of an American citizen, he would request a check by the State Department.

In relinquishing his official duties last March, Lie reviewed his personnel policy for the General Assembly. His rules had been: 1) No staff member should engage in subversive activities against his own government or the government of any member state, but the staff member might "disagree with his government" privately; 2) No U. S. national who belonged to the Communist party and who was thus barred from U. S. government employment could be employed by the U.N.

Lie's "automatic" firings were criticized by France, Canada, Australia, and the Netherlands in subsequent debate. But on the whole Lie's personnel report was endorsed by the Western nations.

Will Time Solve It?

If Russia will not agree to the West's solution for the German problem, and if the West will not accept Russia's terms, how can the two sides hope to reach agreement? That is a question that has troubled many minds, including the minds of statesmen who understand the necessity of getting a settlement as soon as possible. It has never been answered. It cannot be answered now. But it is possible to believe, not merely hope, that an answer will be found.

It is possible to believe this when so tough a realist as Mayor Ernst Reuter of West Berlin is ready to believe it. He has lived on the very edge of the crater ever since the end of World War II and more than once he has seen ominous signs of a new eruption. Now he is of a mind to think that Soviet policy toward Germany is wavering and that the German problem can be solved without war.

He is persuaded that the day "must come" when the Russians will realize "they can't digest East Germany." When that will be he does not know but "they are thinking it over now." He is convinced that they cannot afford a war and do not want one. Therefore they will look for a way to get out of East Germany—and the problem now may very well be for the West to help the Kremlin find a face-saving deal of some kind.

Reuter's new assurance is based on a hard fact that the Russians must take into account. He is sure the East Germans generally are anti-Communist and determined to be reunited with the West Germans—and he points to the outbreak on June 17 as proof. The Russians must know now that they can never succeed in using East Germany as a lever to make all Germany a Communist satellite, for it has already broken in their hands.

How is the German problem to be solved? Even now there is no answer, but it is becoming clearer with each passing day that it can be solved—and will be solved in due course.

From A Ship's Bridge

With the coming of the age of steam, there are those who think that romance and imagination departed from the sea. The stories of Joseph Conrad should have disproved this, for most of his sea stories were laid aboard steamers, not sailing ships. Conrad's vogue has passed, but there are sailors who speak Conrad's language.

One such is Captain William W. Kuhne, who first boarded a ship off the North Sea coast of his native Germany 57 years ago and is now, at the age of 65, retiring as senior skipper of the American Export Lines. He is a resident of New Jersey.

Captain Kuhne was master of sailing ships as late as 1910. He had a ship torpedoed from beneath him in the Indian Ocean in 1942. Asked for special highlights of his career, Captain Kuhne replied:

"Every day was a highlight. Every day, from sunrise to sunset, I saw different things, even though it was on the same run. There were different water, different fishes, different clouds and a different sunset. And when you saw the sunrise every morning, you were seeing the most beautiful thing in the world—the beginning of life."

Conrad, in his loftiest moments never wrote a more striking description of the sea's appeal than this. Debarking from a Mediterranean cruise aboard his final command, the Exeter, Captain Kuhne revealed himself to be a philosopher who understands life's deepest meanings.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Hoarseness-Prone People

At this time of the year many individuals abuse their larynx at the numerous football and baseball stadiums throughout the country, Those with the most boisterous voices usually become hoarse, but the incident is forgotten when the voice returns to normal within the next day or two. The voice was lost because of vocal fatigue or injury to the vocal cords through misuse.

There is no objection to these week-end sprees, but excessive use of the voice may have a more lasting effect upon the voice box. This fact can be demonstrated by questioning those who have innocent tumors, nodes, or polyps on the vocal cords. A high percentage admit they have mistreated their voice over a long period. They were clergymen, singers, public speakers, politicians, or hucksters. The lesions were discovered after hoarseness developed. The majority were grateful on learning the tumors were not cancerous.

Hoarseness is a tricky symptom. The medical profession is keenly alert to the complaint because it may mean cancer. It is for this reason they suggest early examination when hoarseness continues for more than three weeks. Malignancies are easily controlled when detected in this stage, and treatment is relatively simple in that removal of the entire larynx is not required. On the other hand, when the disease is more extensive it becomes necessary to take out all the tissue in the laryngeal area. This means loss of the talking mechanism and the utilization of one of the many ingenious artificial voice boxes.

One of the main stumbling blocks to early detection of tumors on the vocal cords stems from the idea that hoarseness is traceable to laryngitis. This offers a good excuse to postpone examination. Others do not recognize hoarseness because it comes on so gradually. Some procrastinate when the disorder varies from day to day; they are ready to see a physician, but cancel the appointment because the voice "seems a little better today." Another sign of vocal weakness which escapes detection is hoarseness after every football game, party, cold, difficult job, or emotional crisis. This manifestation should arouse suspicion because changes of this nature are not normal.

In his textbook dealing with diseases of the nose, throat, and ears, Chevalier Jackson lists 54 causes of hoarseness. Cancer is No. 1 on the list, followed by numerous infections such as tuberculosis, syphilis, leprosy, diphtheria, and anthrax. Acute laryngitis ranks 43d despite the fact that it is looked upon as the most common cause. Puberty also is mentioned, indicating that the change or "break" in the voice of teen-age boys is a recognized form of hoarseness. The same can be said of the feebleness of the laryngeal muscles associated with old age.

Mrs. C. writes: What should be done when a varicose vein leaks?
REPLY
Lie down, raise the affected leg, and apply pressure to the bleeding site until hemorrhage stops. You guessed the next step: See your physician.

WEATHERBEATEN HIP

V. W. writes: What causes a dry hip socket?
REPLY
Wear and tear rather than lack of lubrication as so many persons think.

STUBBORN ECZEMA

Mrs. E. writes: Can varicose eczema be cured?
REPLY
Yes and no. In some, eczema disappears as soon as the varicose vein is corrected but in others the skin irritation continues because the circulatory disturbance is beyond repair. In such individuals the skin improves when a supportive bandage or stocking is worn or by remaining in bed. But eczema returns as soon as the victim begins to neglect himself or dispenses with treatment.

ARE BUBBLERS DANGEROUS?

R. J. W. writes: While standing near a bubbler in one of our large department stores, we watched people of all ages and all walks of life stop for a drink. The majority, especially the children, put the mouth directly over the bubbler instead of drinking from the spray. Isn't this comparable with the old dipper? Unless these bubblers are sterilized frequently, could they not transmit many communicable diseases?
REPLY
Most bubblers are kept clean by the running water. To my knowledge there is no information on the role these drinking fountains play in spreading disease. We might consider, however, that we have fewer infections nowadays than in the era of the old oaken bucket.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Military Chiefs Can't Make Up Minds On Military Budget; Ike Can't Make Up Mind On Defense Against H-Bomb; Higher Taxes May Be Necessary.

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Defense Charlie Wilson was fidgety all last week because the Joint Chiefs of Staff passed their September 15 deadline without submitting figures on the military budget for next year. The military chiefs were supposed to submit their budget estimates 10 days ago, but let the September 15 deadline slip by without sending Wilson a single piece of paper or even a single figure.

There is, however, an excellent reason for the delay. It can be summarized in exactly six words, plus a correlary explanation.

The six words are: Russia's possession of the hydrogen bomb.

The correlary explanation boils down to this: The Joint Chiefs of Staff can't make any estimates on military needs until they get an over-all decision from the White House on the following all-important problems:

1. Will the U. S. A. erect adequate civil and military defense protection against the H-bomb?

2. If so, does this defense money come out of the military budget?

3. Does the President intend to stick to his budget-balancing program? Or will he sacrifice the budget for the sake of stronger defense?

Ike's Awesome Decision

These are civilian questions which the military chiefs can't answer. They aren't in their province. They are the problem of their own civilian boss, Secretary of Defense Wilson and the President himself. They also constitute the most difficult problem facing Gen. Eisenhower—a problem on which he has postponed decision but which cannot be postponed much longer.

He must either:

A. Let the budget stay out of balance again.

B. Increase taxes,

C. Or sacrifice the safety of the nation.

The first two alternatives will be dealt with in future columns. Regarding the third—the safety of the nation—here is some little-known background showing beyond any shadow of doubt that the United States is in very great danger today.

It was in the sprin gof 1952 that the inner-government debate over protection from the atom bomb really became intensive. At that time a group of scientists, working under the supervision of top eastern universities, prepared a confidential report known as "Project East River" warning that the United States was totally, woefully unprepared to meet an A-bomb attack.

This report roused great consternation, argument and disagreement—especially among the military. And there followed a second report under the auspices of Massachusetts Institute of Technology called the "Lincoln Summer Study" which in the end came out with almost the same conclusion, namely that the United States was extremely vulnerable.

The military, however, were hard to convince. And at first the National Security Council poohpoohed the findings. It was not until President Truman put a burr under the council that its members began to realize that the U. S. A. was blithely and complacently going about its business with little realization that it could be put out of commission almost overnight.

Foot Soldiers vs. Electronics

At this point, Secretary of Defense Lovett, despite all the other reports on the subject, ordered a third report, this one in charge of M. J. Kelly, head of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Later, on January 19, one day before the Eisenhower administration came in, another committee was appointed under Gen. Idwal Edwards.

Both committees came back with equally alarming reports, warning that the United States was in definite danger. All this, of course, was well before there was any intimation that Russia had the hydrogen bomb.

Despite all these reports, General Eisenhower decided that another report was needed and appointed one of his most trusted officers in the European invasion, Gen. Harold Bull, to study the problem of enemy invasion.

The Bull report is now complete and is equally alarming. General Bull has recommended less money than the Kelly committee, but even so, about 10 billions would have to be added to the national budget over a five-year period—possibly more. Or the alternative is to scrap some of the existing methods of national defense, such as two or three infantry divisions; or another alternative, increase taxes.

This is why the Joint Chiefs of Staff have been in a predicament regarding their budget figures for next year. They can't make any estimates until they know what the over-all policy is going to be; also they aren't at all sure that electronics can be substituted for foot soldiers.

Thus goes the biggest and most important debate now going on inside the administration. Upon its outcome will depend whether the budget is balanced and/or we have higher taxes. Even more important, upon its outcome will depend the future safety of the nation.

These Days

The Loss Of Roy Brewer

When the Brown-Bioff scandals wracked the motion picture industry and the Sorrelle strike came close to making it dependent upon the whim of Communist unionism, Roy Brewer was sent to Los Angeles from Washington to attempt to rescue the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes and Moving Picture Machine Operators of the United States and Canada. His essential task was to establish a good name for the discredited and racketeer-ridden union.

Roy Brewer, since 1945, has succeeded in establishing not only a competently managed and respected labor union, but he has come to be regarded as one of the most statesmanlike personalities in Hollywood.

During these years, Roy Brewer was in a subordinate position, but few realized this because of his achievements in rescuing the motion picture industry from Communist infiltration, his settlement of labor disputes without strikes, and his leadership in community activities.

In recent months, articles about Brewer's activities and personality have appeared in national magazines. The articles must have been too favorable because Brewer has been eliminated from his union. It is true that Brewer resigned, but that occurred only after his office had been cut down to inefficent operations and his authority had been curtailed to an obscurity equal to that of the international headquarters in New York, the head of which is hardly known outside his organization. The New York office objected to the tail wagging the dog, as it were.

Roy Brewer's anti-communist activities have been unusually constructive in the sense that not only have Communists and their sympathizers been driven out of Hollywood, so that that high-earning area ceased to be the principal treasury in this country for the Communist party, but those who were innocent, who had erred and acknowledged their error, found a way to clear themselves. More men and women, whose careers appeared to have been wrecked, are now working because of the aid given them by Roy Brewer and his group. In this reconstructive work, great talents have been redeemed from fears attending their previous errors for a clear road to useful work.

Whereas in radio and television, the Communists not only are still free to find employment while decent Americans are kept from working because they are controversial, in the motion picture industry, the cleansing operation has, in the main, been successfull because it was just and based upon principle. It has recognized that while error is possible, contrition must be public.

Roy Brewer is not entitled to the whole credit for the work, as he had associated with him a group of self-sacrificing men. The others agreed that Roy Brewer's name should stand out in leadership. His union president knew of this work and its importance and why Brewer was given such prominence. Yet, Brewer was eliminated from his union because of a prominence which seems to have excited envy.

Last summer, Brewer undertook to fight against those Americans who made motion pictures in Europe and Africa for the purpose of evading income tax payments to the United States. Brewer did not object to these companies and stars evading taxes which the law permitted in these instances, but he did object to the lessening of employment in Hollywood and to the use of Communist unions particularly in Italy and France.

It was this campaign which started the underground movement against Brewer among some producers who found that they could make pictures more cheaply in foreign countries. Also, some of them have blocked money in Europe which they would like to use making pictures which they sell in this country for American dollars. By this indirect means, they get their money out of Europe.

Brewer's objection to employing Communist unions in Europe is a valid one, for every Communist union in every country contributes to the treasury of the revolution. While the American taxpayer contributes billions to the fight against Communism, the motion picture industry contributes to the other side of the fight by hiring Communist unions in Europe to make pictures for them. It may sound ridiculous, but these are the facts and Brewer put up a fight on this issue.

So, now he is out of trade unionism and has gone into business. The loss is America's. Few such sound leaders appear in American trade unionism. When they leave the union, racketeers and subversives usually take over.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

"We Nothing Know"

MANILA, P. I.

Rudyard Kipling dismissed the little Englanders of his day with the line, "They nothing know of England who only England know." In a quite different way, America's involvement in the world is relentlessly producing a comparable situation. For who at home understands, for example, that America is now running a candidate in a critical election in a major Far Eastern nation?

Certainly this correspondent had no such idea until he reached this amiable, steaming hot, agreeably gimcrack, irrespressibly vital Philippine capital. But here in Manila it is clear at once that Ramon Magsaysay is the American choice against the incumbent President Elpidio Quirino. The evidence speaks with a loud voice.

In considering this remarkable fact, one can at least begin by saying that for once in a way we need not be ashamed of our own side. Since the end of the war, the omnipresent blackmail of the Communist threat has extorted American sympathy, or money, or military aid or in some cases all three, for some highly unappetizing politicians and political regimes. But in this case there is no need to be shamefaced.

The aged, ailing, crafty and insatiable Quirino came into office in an election celebrated for its frauds. With all his singular shrewdness and charm, he still represents almost every backward tendency in Philippine and Asiatic politics. He is surrounded by a clique whose rapacity has angered even tolerant Manila. If he is elected at all, he will win by the most ruthless use of his control of the army and government machinery; for these are Quirino's only visible supports in an aroused nation.

Simple And Complex Answer

Magsaysay, in contrast, crudely stands for the future that Asia may reasonably hope for, yet may so easily be cheated of by the powerful collaboration of corrupt ruling elements and the always active Communists.

The new man is not all that the old man is. The finesse, the disillusioned knowledge of the world, the surface polish that are so immediately striking in Quirino are not present in Magasaysay. You think when you meet him, "He has worked with his hands and he fought in the woods against the Japs," and you would still suspect these things if you did not already know them to be true. And you also think, "Surely this man is a bit uncomplicated, even maybe a bit naive for one who must thread the labyrinths of Asiatic politics;" and this is probably true too, and may one day prove a drawback.

Yet, this dark, vigorous, burning man is explosively courageous, angrily honest, and above all possessed of a vision of the future that has made him a hero of his people. Today the Philippines are a poor land in which a very few enjoy great wealth. Yet this is also a land of immense, untapped riches, with a frontier in Mindanao, in Mindoro, in Palawan, that holds almost the promise of the American frontier. The vision that Magsaysay offers is a vision of national self-development, of hard working progress and a better life for the people.

But this does not answer the question, how the United States came to nave this candidate in the election of another nation all the way across the broad Pacific. The answer is at once simple and complex.

Destroyed Red Guerrillas

Magsaysay comes of relatively humble people. He ran a bus line before the war. In wartime, he was the guerrilla leader of his province. When peace came, General MacArthur named him provincial governor. He ran for Congress and was elected. In the period when the Communist hukbalahaps were still operating in the suburbs of Manila, his bravery, energy and determined anti-communism attracted attention. In that disordered time the Philippine government was living by American aid, and American influence was an important factor in making Magsaysay minister of Defense.

Despite sabotage, Magsaysay cleaned his ministry and the Philippine army of graft and politics. He breathed a wholly new spirit into the campaign against the huks. By untiring effort he destroyed or localized these Communist guerrillas, and to combat communism he began to preach a brighter Philippine future.

In all this effort, and even in developing his ideas, Magsaysay worked intimately with the American embassy and military advisory group. The relationship was so happy that Quirino has even charged that Magsaysay's former American liaison officer, Col. Edward Lansdale, acted as "Magsaysay's public relations man." All that ended of course when Magsaysay left the cabinet to run for the presidency against his former chief. Our wholly admirable ambassador here, Adm. Raymond Spruance, has maintained an attitude of the strictest correctness in the current political campaign.

None the less, President Quirino has twice burst out with accusations that the embassy was intervening in the struggle. Although these unfounded charges have had to be withdrawn, Quirino's supporters like Speaker Perez, have continued to repeat the charges. And the real attitude of the American government is discernible behind the correct facade, in such very simple facts as the failure of any Eisenhower administration leader to see President Quirino, the head of a friendly and allied state, during his recent three months in America for medical treatment.

As a practical matter, therefore, Magsaysay is the American candidate in the Philippine election which will be decided next November. He is universally regarded as such. He hardly denies it. The fact is vital, for it can produce the most far reaching effects upon the future in Asia. But these must be examined in another report.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Is the biggest game of bluff in world history going on between Soviet Russia and the United States?

The maneuvers look like it — and so do the speeches emanating from Moscow and Washington through official spokesmen.

Thus Andrei Vishinsky demands not only the prohibition of atom and hydrogen bombs but the demolition of all U. S. bases abroad — which would, of course, leave the Red army, with its vast reserve of manpower, unaffected for use in conventional warfare.

Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson makes a speech saying he thinks the use of atom and hydrogen bombs will be neutralized just as was chemical warfare and that, if war comes, it will be fought with conventional weapons.

Officials Not Alone

President Eisenhower makes a speech which, in the face of demands inside America for a balanced budget and tax reduction, sounds like he is trying to offset any impression abroad that civilian pressure for economy would be allowed to reduce the program for atomic armament and the means of carrying the new weapons to their targets. He says "no tax, no labor and no service" would be too hard to bear "to support a necessary and logical defense of our freedom."

What is the meaning of these public exchanges of viewpoint — this warfare by headlines?

The game isn't being carried on just by official spokesmen, either. There is a demand from scientists here and abroad that everything be published now — how to make atom and hydrogen bombs and the data on how many America has made already. This crusade against further secrecy has been taken up by a school of thought which thinks that if the Russians really knew how far ahead we are today on bombs — both quantitatively and qualitatively — they wouldn't try to start any wars. There's another school of thought, however, which thinks Soviet Russia is trying hard, through every device of propaganda and infiltration into scientific circles, to get America to disclose what her atomic program really has been and will be in order that the Soviet campaign for disarmament and equalization of strength may be carried on even more effectively by the Soviets.

Meanwhile, the Communists have succeeded in scaring some of the political parties in Europe, if not all the governments. The mere mention by the Russians of how easy it is to drop an atom bomb on any European capital if America launches an atomic war of defense is enough to cause the Allied governments to beg for a peaceful course, even if it savors of appeasement. The demand for admission of Red China into the U. N. is widespread in Europe because of a belief that this will immediately cause Soviet Russia to become peaceful or "reduce tension."

But, as the Vishinsky speech has already indicated, Soviet Russia isn't going to be satisfied by a settlement of Far Eastern questions. She demands also the dissolution of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the scrapping of the European defense army idea.

Looking at the other side of the picture, there is no doubt that Moscow knows of the power of the American air forces — both those bombers which would fly from overseas bases the moment war was declared and those that would fly from the decks of aircraft carriers whose location the Soviet cannot know, because these ships move around constantly and still keep within striking distance of the Russian heartland.

Calculated Risks

Theoretically, enemy bombs could destroy fixed land bases in Europe and, if precious bombs were to be wasted on movable targets, they could destroy aircraft carriers, too. But defense planners aren't dissuaded by such contingencies — these become merely "calculated risks."

America's program of a quick retaliation by airplanes and missiles is still the most powerful threat ever conceived by the mind of man against an enemy power — and the Soviets know it. This threat of retaliation, moreover, can be maintained now by a reasonable expenditure annually without breaking up the American economy. The budget can be balanced at the same time that the game of bluff and counter-bluff goes on for years with no actual war, for the simple reason that no people anywhere will sanction an offensive war. That's why the Soviets figure they can infiltrate America as they have Italy, France and Britain. They think they can get concessions from governments and cabinets that are bluffed by a Russian threat.

Complacency on the "infiltration front" is growing in America and also in many other countries.

U. N. And U. S. Reds

The new hearings of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in New York will involve 11 American citizens, formerly employed in the U.N. secretariat, who were fired for availing themselves of the protection of the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination in earlier appearances before congressional committees.

The 11 are among 29 who were fired last year by former U.N. Secretary General Lie for refusing to answer questions at U. S. proceedings or on the basis of information supplied by the United States. Lie's actions were supported on November 30, 1952, by the findings of a three-member international legal panel. But on the following December 10 the Internal Security subcommittee was informed by the State Department that 14 other U. S. citizens against whom "adverse comments" had been filed still were employed by the U.N.

The case bounded back to public attention last September 1, when the Administrative Tribunal, highest U.N. legal authority on administration, ruled that 11 of the previous dismissals had been illegal. It ordered that four persons be reinstated with back pay, and that damages be paid nine others who had not held permanent contracts. The new secretary general, Dag Hammarskjold, refused to restore the four to their jobs and asked the tribunal to set damage awards for them. A spokesman for the U. S. delegation to the U.N. called Hammarskjold's action "right and within his prerogatives."

U. S. citizens of questionable beliefs or affiliations obtained jobs in the U.N.'s international civil service beginning in 1946, when Governor Byrnes of South Carolina, then secretary of State, took the position that it was not his duty to advise the secretary general on U. S. citizens seeking employment. "Under the United Nations Charter and the regulations of the General Assembly," Byrnes has explained, "the secretary general had the exclusive and full authority to hire and fire U.N. employes and was not obligated to follow our recommendations. Therefore I did not want to make any recommendations."

The same position was maintained under Secretary of State Marshall. But in 1949 Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary General Lie agreed that if Lie had any doubts about the loyalty of an American citizen, he would request a check by the State Department.

In relinquishing his official duties last March, Lie reviewed his personnel policy for the General Assembly. His rules had been: 1) No staff member should engage in subversive activities against his own government or the government of any member state, but the staff member might "disagree with his government" privately; 2) No U. S. national who belonged to the Communist party and who was thus barred from U. S. government employment could be employed by the U.N.

Lie's "automatic" firings were criticized by France, Canada, Australia, and the Netherlands in subsequent debate. But on the whole Lie's personnel report was endorsed by the Western nations.

Will Time Solve It?

If Russia will not agree to the West's solution for the German problem, and if the West will not accept Russia's terms, how can the two sides hope to reach agreement? That is a question that has troubled many minds, including the minds of statesmen who understand the necessity of getting a settlement as soon as possible. It has never been answered. It cannot be answered now. But it is possible to believe, not merely hope, that an answer will be found.

It is possible to believe this when so tough a realist as Mayor Ernst Reuter of West Berlin is ready to believe it. He has lived on the very edge of the crater ever since the end of World War II and more than once he has seen ominous signs of a new eruption. Now he is of a mind to think that Soviet policy toward Germany is wavering and that the German problem can be solved without war.

He is persuaded that the day "must come" when the Russians will realize "they can't digest East Germany." When that will be he does not know but "they are thinking it over now." He is convinced that they cannot afford a war and do not want one. Therefore they will look for a way to get out of East Germany—and the problem now may very well be for the West to help the Kremlin find a face-saving deal of some kind.

Reuter's new assurance is based on a hard fact that the Russians must take into account. He is sure the East Germans generally are anti-Communist and determined to be reunited with the West Germans—and he points to the outbreak on June 17 as proof. The Russians must know now that they can never succeed in using East Germany as a lever to make all Germany a Communist satellite, for it has already broken in their hands.

How is the German problem to be solved? Even now there is no answer, but it is becoming clearer with each passing day that it can be solved—and will be solved in due course.

From A Ship's Bridge

With the coming of the age of steam, there are those who think that romance and imagination departed from the sea. The stories of Joseph Conrad should have disproved this, for most of his sea stories were laid aboard steamers, not sailing ships. Conrad's vogue has passed, but there are sailors who speak Conrad's language.

One such is Captain William W. Kuhne, who first boarded a ship off the North Sea coast of his native Germany 57 years ago and is now, at the age of 65, retiring as senior skipper of the American Export Lines. He is a resident of New Jersey.

Captain Kuhne was master of sailing ships as late as 1910. He had a ship torpedoed from beneath him in the Indian Ocean in 1942. Asked for special highlights of his career, Captain Kuhne replied:

"Every day was a highlight. Every day, from sunrise to sunset, I saw different things, even though it was on the same run. There were different water, different fishes, different clouds and a different sunset. And when you saw the sunrise every morning, you were seeing the most beautiful thing in the world—the beginning of life."

Conrad, in his loftiest moments never wrote a more striking description of the sea's appeal than this. Debarking from a Mediterranean cruise aboard his final command, the Exeter, Captain Kuhne revealed himself to be a philosopher who understands life's deepest meanings.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Hoarseness-Prone People

At this time of the year many individuals abuse their larynx at the numerous football and baseball stadiums throughout the country, Those with the most boisterous voices usually become hoarse, but the incident is forgotten when the voice returns to normal within the next day or two. The voice was lost because of vocal fatigue or injury to the vocal cords through misuse.

There is no objection to these week-end sprees, but excessive use of the voice may have a more lasting effect upon the voice box. This fact can be demonstrated by questioning those who have innocent tumors, nodes, or polyps on the vocal cords. A high percentage admit they have mistreated their voice over a long period. They were clergymen, singers, public speakers, politicians, or hucksters. The lesions were discovered after hoarseness developed. The majority were grateful on learning the tumors were not cancerous.

Hoarseness is a tricky symptom. The medical profession is keenly alert to the complaint because it may mean cancer. It is for this reason they suggest early examination when hoarseness continues for more than three weeks. Malignancies are easily controlled when detected in this stage, and treatment is relatively simple in that removal of the entire larynx is not required. On the other hand, when the disease is more extensive it becomes necessary to take out all the tissue in the laryngeal area. This means loss of the talking mechanism and the utilization of one of the many ingenious artificial voice boxes.

One of the main stumbling blocks to early detection of tumors on the vocal cords stems from the idea that hoarseness is traceable to laryngitis. This offers a good excuse to postpone examination. Others do not recognize hoarseness because it comes on so gradually. Some procrastinate when the disorder varies from day to day; they are ready to see a physician, but cancel the appointment because the voice "seems a little better today." Another sign of vocal weakness which escapes detection is hoarseness after every football game, party, cold, difficult job, or emotional crisis. This manifestation should arouse suspicion because changes of this nature are not normal.

In his textbook dealing with diseases of the nose, throat, and ears, Chevalier Jackson lists 54 causes of hoarseness. Cancer is No. 1 on the list, followed by numerous infections such as tuberculosis, syphilis, leprosy, diphtheria, and anthrax. Acute laryngitis ranks 43d despite the fact that it is looked upon as the most common cause. Puberty also is mentioned, indicating that the change or "break" in the voice of teen-age boys is a recognized form of hoarseness. The same can be said of the feebleness of the laryngeal muscles associated with old age.

He must either:

A. Let the budget stay out of balance again.

B. Increase taxes,

C. Or sacrifice the safety of the nation.

The first two alternatives will be dealt with in future columns. Regarding the third—the safety of the nation—here is some little-known background showing beyond any shadow of doubt that the United States is in very great danger today.

It was in the sprin gof 1952 that the inner-government debate over protection from the atom bomb really became intensive. At that time a group of scientists, working under the supervision of top eastern universities, prepared a confidential report known as "Project East River" warning that the United States was totally, woefully unprepared to meet an A-bomb attack.

This report roused great consternation, argument and disagreement—especially among the military. And there followed a second report under the auspices of Massachusetts Institute of Technology called the "Lincoln Summer Study" which in the end came out with almost the same conclusion, namely that the United States was extremely vulnerable.

The military, however, were hard to convince. And at first the National Security Council poohpoohed the findings. It was not until President Truman put a burr under the council that its members began to realize that the U. S. A. was blithely and complacently going about its business with little realization that it could be put out of commission almost overnight.

Foot Soldiers vs. Electronics

At this point, Secretary of Defense Lovett, despite all the other reports on the subject, ordered a third report, this one in charge of M. J. Kelly, head of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Later, on January 19, one day before the Eisenhower administration came in, another committee was appointed under Gen. Idwal Edwards.

Both committees came back with equally alarming reports, warning that the United States was in definite danger. All this, of course, was well before there was any intimation that Russia had the hydrogen bomb.

Despite all these reports, General Eisenhower decided that another report was needed and appointed one of his most trusted officers in the European invasion, Gen. Harold Bull, to study the problem of enemy invasion.

The Bull report is now complete and is equally alarming. General Bull has recommended less money than the Kelly committee, but even so, about 10 billions would have to be added to the national budget over a five-year period—possibly more. Or the alternative is to scrap some of the existing methods of national defense, such as two or three infantry divisions; or another alternative, increase taxes.

This is why the Joint Chiefs of Staff have been in a predicament regarding their budget figures for next year. They can't make any estimates until they know what the over-all policy is going to be; also they aren't at all sure that electronics can be substituted for foot soldiers.

Thus goes the biggest and most important debate now going on inside the administration. Upon its outcome will depend whether the budget is balanced and/or we have higher taxes. Even more important, upon its outcome will depend the future safety of the nation.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Loss Of Roy Brewer

When the Brown-Bioff scandals wracked the motion picture industry and the Sorrelle strike came close to making it dependent upon the whim of Communist unionism, Roy Brewer was sent to Los Angeles from Washington to attempt to rescue the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes and Moving Picture Machine Operators of the United States and Canada. His essential task was to establish a good name for the discredited and racketeer-ridden union.

Roy Brewer, since 1945, has succeeded in establishing not only a competently managed and respected labor union, but he has come to be regarded as one of the most statesmanlike personalities in Hollywood.

During these years, Roy Brewer was in a subordinate position, but few realized this because of his achievements in rescuing the motion picture industry from Communist infiltration, his settlement of labor disputes without strikes, and his leadership in community activities.

In recent months, articles about Brewer's activities and personality have appeared in national magazines. The articles must have been too favorable because Brewer has been eliminated from his union. It is true that Brewer resigned, but that occurred only after his office had been cut down to inefficent operations and his authority had been curtailed to an obscurity equal to that of the international headquarters in New York, the head of which is hardly known outside his organization. The New York office objected to the tail wagging the dog, as it were.

Roy Brewer's anti-communist activities have been unusually constructive in the sense that not only have Communists and their sympathizers been driven out of Hollywood, so that that high-earning area ceased to be the principal treasury in this country for the Communist party, but those who were innocent, who had erred and acknowledged their error, found a way to clear themselves. More men and women, whose careers appeared to have been wrecked, are now working because of the aid given them by Roy Brewer and his group. In this reconstructive work, great talents have been redeemed from fears attending their previous errors for a clear road to useful work.

Whereas in radio and television, the Communists not only are still free to find employment while decent Americans are kept from working because they are controversial, in the motion picture industry, the cleansing operation has, in the main, been successfull because it was just and based upon principle. It has recognized that while error is possible, contrition must be public.

Roy Brewer is not entitled to the whole credit for the work, as he had associated with him a group of self-sacrificing men. The others agreed that Roy Brewer's name should stand out in leadership. His union president knew of this work and its importance and why Brewer was given such prominence. Yet, Brewer was eliminated from his union because of a prominence which seems to have excited envy.

Last summer, Brewer undertook to fight against those Americans who made motion pictures in Europe and Africa for the purpose of evading income tax payments to the United States. Brewer did not object to these companies and stars evading taxes which the law permitted in these instances, but he did object to the lessening of employment in Hollywood and to the use of Communist unions particularly in Italy and France.

It was this campaign which started the underground movement against Brewer among some producers who found that they could make pictures more cheaply in foreign countries. Also, some of them have blocked money in Europe which they would like to use making pictures which they sell in this country for American dollars. By this indirect means, they get their money out of Europe.

Brewer's objection to employing Communist unions in Europe is a valid one, for every Communist union in every country contributes to the treasury of the revolution. While the American taxpayer contributes billions to the fight against Communism, the motion picture industry contributes to the other side of the fight by hiring Communist unions in Europe to make pictures for them. It may sound ridiculous, but these are the facts and Brewer put up a fight on this issue.

So, now he is out of trade unionism and has gone into business. The loss is America's. Few such sound leaders appear in American trade unionism. When they leave the union, racketeers and subversives usually take over.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

"We Nothing Know"

MANILA, P. I.

Rudyard Kipling dismissed the little Englanders of his day with the line, "They nothing know of England who only England know." In a quite different way, America's involvement in the world is relentlessly producing a comparable situation. For who at home understands, for example, that America is now running a candidate in a critical election in a major Far Eastern nation?

Certainly this correspondent had no such idea until he reached this amiable, steaming hot, agreeably gimcrack, irrespressibly vital Philippine capital. But here in Manila it is clear at once that Ramon Magsaysay is the American choice against the incumbent President Elpidio Quirino. The evidence speaks with a loud voice.

In considering this remarkable fact, one can at least begin by saying that for once in a way we need not be ashamed of our own side. Since the end of the war, the omnipresent blackmail of the Communist threat has extorted American sympathy, or money, or military aid or in some cases all three, for some highly unappetizing politicians and political regimes. But in this case there is no need to be shamefaced.

The aged, ailing, crafty and insatiable Quirino came into office in an election celebrated for its frauds. With all his singular shrewdness and charm, he still represents almost every backward tendency in Philippine and Asiatic politics. He is surrounded by a clique whose rapacity has angered even tolerant Manila. If he is elected at all, he will win by the most ruthless use of his control of the army and government machinery; for these are Quirino's only visible supports in an aroused nation.

Simple And Complex Answer

Magsaysay, in contrast, crudely stands for the future that Asia may reasonably hope for, yet may so easily be cheated of by the powerful collaboration of corrupt ruling elements and the always active Communists.

The new man is not all that the old man is. The finesse, the disillusioned knowledge of the world, the surface polish that are so immediately striking in Quirino are not present in Magasaysay. You think when you meet him, "He has worked with his hands and he fought in the woods against the Japs," and you would still suspect these things if you did not already know them to be true. And you also think, "Surely this man is a bit uncomplicated, even maybe a bit naive for one who must thread the labyrinths of Asiatic politics;" and this is probably true too, and may one day prove a drawback.

Yet, this dark, vigorous, burning man is explosively courageous, angrily honest, and above all possessed of a vision of the future that has made him a hero of his people. Today the Philippines are a poor land in which a very few enjoy great wealth. Yet this is also a land of immense, untapped riches, with a frontier in Mindanao, in Mindoro, in Palawan, that holds almost the promise of the American frontier. The vision that Magsaysay offers is a vision of national self-development, of hard working progress and a better life for the people.

But this does not answer the question, how the United States came to nave this candidate in the election of another nation all the way across the broad Pacific. The answer is at once simple and complex.

Destroyed Red Guerrillas

Magsaysay comes of relatively humble people. He ran a bus line before the war. In wartime, he was the guerrilla leader of his province. When peace came, General MacArthur named him provincial governor. He ran for Congress and was elected. In the period when the Communist hukbalahaps were still operating in the suburbs of Manila, his bravery, energy and determined anti-communism attracted attention. In that disordered time the Philippine government was living by American aid, and American influence was an important factor in making Magsaysay minister of Defense.

Despite sabotage, Magsaysay cleaned his ministry and the Philippine army of graft and politics. He breathed a wholly new spirit into the campaign against the huks. By untiring effort he destroyed or localized these Communist guerrillas, and to combat communism he began to preach a brighter Philippine future.

In all this effort, and even in developing his ideas, Magsaysay worked intimately with the American embassy and military advisory group. The relationship was so happy that Quirino has even charged that Magsaysay's former American liaison officer, Col. Edward Lansdale, acted as "Magsaysay's public relations man." All that ended of course when Magsaysay left the cabinet to run for the presidency against his former chief. Our wholly admirable ambassador here, Adm. Raymond Spruance, has maintained an attitude of the strictest correctness in the current political campaign.

None the less, President Quirino has twice burst out with accusations that the embassy was intervening in the struggle. Although these unfounded charges have had to be withdrawn, Quirino's supporters like Speaker Perez, have continued to repeat the charges. And the real attitude of the American government is discernible behind the correct facade, in such very simple facts as the failure of any Eisenhower administration leader to see President Quirino, the head of a friendly and allied state, during his recent three months in America for medical treatment.

As a practical matter, therefore, Magsaysay is the American candidate in the Philippine election which will be decided next November. He is universally regarded as such. He hardly denies it. The fact is vital, for it can produce the most far reaching effects upon the future in Asia. But these must be examined in another report.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Is the biggest game of bluff in world history going on between Soviet Russia and the United States?

The maneuvers look like it — and so do the speeches emanating from Moscow and Washington through official spokesmen.

Thus Andrei Vishinsky demands not only the prohibition of atom and hydrogen bombs but the demolition of all U. S. bases abroad — which would, of course, leave the Red army, with its vast reserve of manpower, unaffected for use in conventional warfare.

Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson makes a speech saying he thinks the use of atom and hydrogen bombs will be neutralized just as was chemical warfare and that, if war comes, it will be fought with conventional weapons.

Officials Not Alone

President Eisenhower makes a speech which, in the face of demands inside America for a balanced budget and tax reduction, sounds like he is trying to offset any impression abroad that civilian pressure for economy would be allowed to reduce the program for atomic armament and the means of carrying the new weapons to their targets. He says "no tax, no labor and no service" would be too hard to bear "to support a necessary and logical defense of our freedom."

What is the meaning of these public exchanges of viewpoint — this warfare by headlines?

The game isn't being carried on just by official spokesmen, either. There is a demand from scientists here and abroad that everything be published now — how to make atom and hydrogen bombs and the data on how many America has made already. This crusade against further secrecy has been taken up by a school of thought which thinks that if the Russians really knew how far ahead we are today on bombs — both quantitatively and qualitatively — they wouldn't try to start any wars. There's another school of thought, however, which thinks Soviet Russia is trying hard, through every device of propaganda and infiltration into scientific circles, to get America to disclose what her atomic program really has been and will be in order that the Soviet campaign for disarmament and equalization of strength may be carried on even more effectively by the Soviets.

Meanwhile, the Communists have succeeded in scaring some of the political parties in Europe, if not all the governments. The mere mention by the Russians of how easy it is to drop an atom bomb on any European capital if America launches an atomic war of defense is enough to cause the Allied governments to beg for a peaceful course, even if it savors of appeasement. The demand for admission of Red China into the U. N. is widespread in Europe because of a belief that this will immediately cause Soviet Russia to become peaceful or "reduce tension."

But, as the Vishinsky speech has already indicated, Soviet Russia isn't going to be satisfied by a settlement of Far Eastern questions. She demands also the dissolution of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the scrapping of the European defense army idea.

Looking at the other side of the picture, there is no doubt that Moscow knows of the power of the American air forces — both those bombers which would fly from overseas bases the moment war was declared and those that would fly from the decks of aircraft carriers whose location the Soviet cannot know, because these ships move around constantly and still keep within striking distance of the Russian heartland.

Calculated Risks

Theoretically, enemy bombs could destroy fixed land bases in Europe and, if precious bombs were to be wasted on movable targets, they could destroy aircraft carriers, too. But defense planners aren't dissuaded by such contingencies — these become merely "calculated risks."

America's program of a quick retaliation by airplanes and missiles is still the most powerful threat ever conceived by the mind of man against an enemy power — and the Soviets know it. This threat of retaliation, moreover, can be maintained now by a reasonable expenditure annually without breaking up the American economy. The budget can be balanced at the same time that the game of bluff and counter-bluff goes on for years with no actual war, for the simple reason that no people anywhere will sanction an offensive war. That's why the Soviets figure they can infiltrate America as they have Italy, France and Britain. They think they can get concessions from governments and cabinets that are bluffed by a Russian threat.

Complacency on the "infiltration front" is growing in America and also in many other countries.

Mail Hike Unseen In New Regulations

Authorities at the Cumberland Post Office anticipate no deluge of mailing matter, despite the new regulation which permits advertising literature to be distributed without an address.

The ruling states that all the business houses — with bulk mailing permits — have to do is to have the literature in bundles which can be handed to the mailman on each city and rural route. Previously, advertising matter had to have some sort of an address, such as "Occupant, 120 Blank Street."

W. Russell Thayer, superintendent of mails at the local post office, said several national firms have already requested a breakdown of the city's routes and no doubt will be sending matter for distribution here.

Thayer said there are 18 mail routes within the city limits and six rural routes. The number of stops on the city routes number 10,914, Thayer explained, while the combined stops on the rural and city routes are 15,537.

The principal effect of the new regulation, Thayer said, is that it relieves the carrier of the tedious job of sorting the material to the individual addresses.

32,000 Expected To See Title Bout Tonight

Heavy Champ Remains 4-1 Ring Favorite

45 Theaters To Carry LaStarza-Marciano Fight At 9:30 EST

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, heavyweight champion of the world one year today, remained a 4 to 1 favorite to turn back the challenge of ex-collegian Roland LaStarza tomorrow night before 32,000 at the Polo Grounds.

New York's first heavyweight title fight in two and a half years scheduled for 9:30 p.m. (EST) will not be seen on home television. There will be no blow-by-blow radio accounts, although the radio stations will be permitted to broadcast brief summaries at the end of each round.

A network of 45 theaters in 34 cities will beam the 15-round match across the nation to theaters and drive-ins by Theater TV which has guaranteed the International Boxing Club a minimum of $100,000.

$350,000 Gross Seen

The most reliable forecasts call for a gross gate of about $350,000. Jim Norris, IBC president said advance receipts for "over $250,000 with a chance of a final gate of $400,000 or better. The weather man predicted a clear warm day with a high of 70 and the high 50s by ringtime.

The boxing experts were lined up behind the champ almost to a man. Few expected the bout to go the limit.

LaStarza, normally an overcautious boxer, has been training at Greenwood Lake, N. Y. as though he meant to carry the fight to the champion. When he beat Dan Bucceroni in a rematch last year, he moved inside and smothered the long range power of the rangy Philadelphia boy. Roland, 26-year-old son of a Bronx butcher, still remembers Rocky as a clumsy slugger with a long, overhand right.

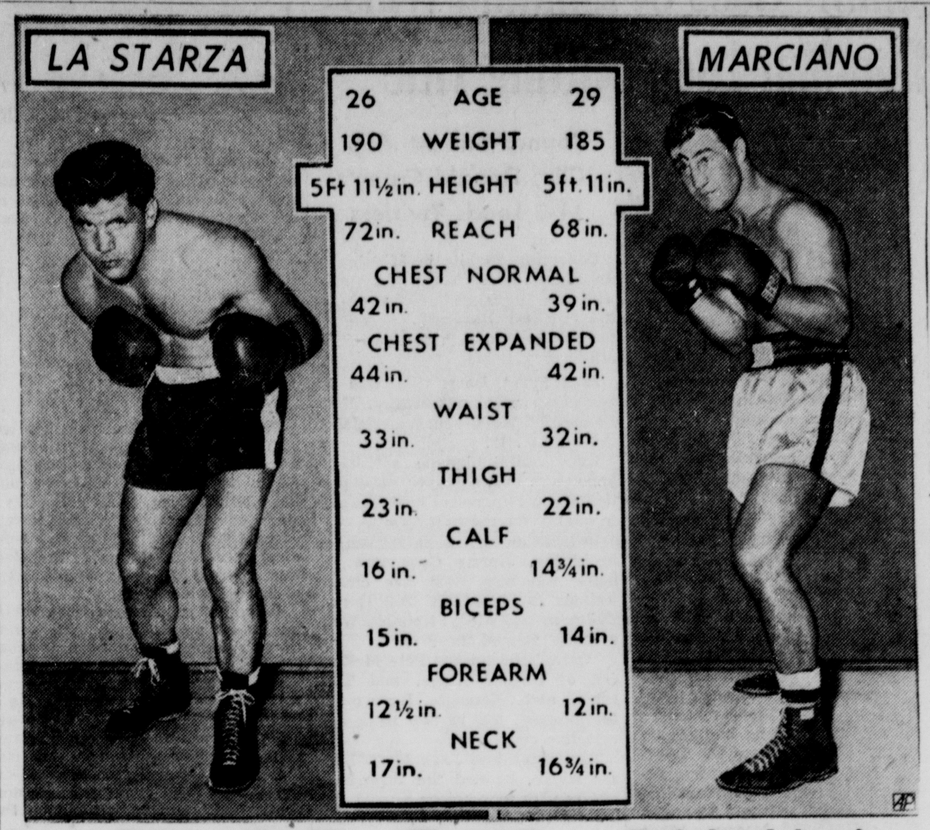

It was the long right that dropped LaStarza in their first meeting Mar. 24, 1950 when Marciano won a disputed split decision. Rocky went on to win the title Sept. 23, 1952 by knocking out Jersey Joe Walcott in the 13th round at Philadelphia.

Has Shortened Punches

Marciano no longer is the lumbering, awkward puncher who throws only haymakers. Trainer Charley Goldman and Manager Al Weill have shortened his punches, sent him into a crouch and taught him the semblance of a boxing style.

The pick here is Marciano on a knockout in eight.

This will be Marciano's second defense and his 45th fight in an unbeaten career. He has scored 39 knockouts and was down only once—for a four-count in the first round of his first fight with Walcott. LaStarza's career record, also dating back to 1947, is 53-3 for 56 pro fights since he left the Golden Gloves and City College. He never was stopped but has been down five times.

Beightol Again On Injured List

Terps Drill Hard For W & L Contest

COLLEGE PARK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Maryland's football team got another bruising scrimmage and peppery talk from Coach Jim Tatum today in a three-hour workout for Saturday's home opener against Washington and Lee.

"They've got 11 great men and that's enough to beat you," Tatum warned his Terrapins in a half-hour talk preceding a 2½ hour scrimmage session.

He referred to scouting reports received yesterday on the General's 47-0 victory over Shepherd College last Saturday, which praised the showing of the W.&L. first team.

A handicap to Maryland's reserve strength Saturday may come in the quarterback spot where promising sophomore Lynn Beightol of Cumberland, Md. is still sidelined with a bruised rib. He rehurt the rib in yesterday's scrimmaging.

Cats Take Bus For Tech Game

39 Make Trip For Friday Engagement

KEYSER, W. Va. — The Potomac State Catamounts left by chartered bus this morning for Montgomery, W. Va., where they will meet the strong West Virginia Tech team Friday night. There were 39 in the party including two managers and Coach Dana Lough.

The team was all in good condition with the exception of the quarterbacks who have not recovered from injuries received last week. Fred Lee, who started last week's game, is suffering from a bruised muscle in his leg and will not start against Tech. Don Hobbs has not recovered from a sprained ankle received in early season practice and may see only limited action in the Tech game. Ed Egan has been running at quarter this week and may be drafted into service for Friday's game.

Coach "Horse" Lough would not make any predictions about the game except to say, "We have been working very hard and the boys are just as anxious as I am to redeem ourselves after last Saturday's game."

The Catamounts return to Stayman Field next week for their traditional game against the George Washington Junior Varsity. This game is being sponsored by the Upper Potomac Shrine Club, as a Civic activity for the promotion of Potomac State College.

Roberts Wins 23rd, Beats Giants, 2-1

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 (AP)—Robin Roberts, the winningest pitcher in the major leagues, captured No. 23 tonight in shackling the New York Giants with six hits as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Giants 2-1.

Roberts, also the league's leading strikeout artist, boosted his season total to 196 with seven strikeouts.

The Phillies picked up their first tally in the first inning as Richie Ashburn and Earl Torgeson singled and Marv Grissom wild pitched, Ashburn scoring.

In the fifth Johnny Wyrostek walked and Roberts singled after Willie Jones forced Wyrostek. Ted Kazanski forced Roberts and then Ashburn singled to left, scoring Jones with the winning run.

IBC Withdraws Ban To Permit Summary

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—The International Boxing Club's (IRC) ban on round-by-round broadcasts of tomorrow night's Marciano-LaStarza heavyweight championship fight was upset today by a small, foreign language radio station here.

A court ruling gave station WOV the right to broadcast round-by-round in the past tense. No restriction was placed on its right to make such a broadcast from a rooftop overlooking the Polo grounds fight scene or anywhere else outside the park.

In the light of the court ruling, the IBC withdrew its original ban on round-by-round, to permit a brief, past tense summary at the end of each round. Few stations were expected to take advantage of it, however, at this late date.

IBC sold the rights to televise the fight in 45 theaters in 34 cities outside of New York for $100,000. Then it tried to limit broadcasts to a 75-word summary after every three rounds.

Meanwhile, in Vancouver, Wash., radio station KVAN went even further than WOV and planned to re-create the fight blow-by-blow with sound effects in open defiance of the IBC. The re-creation will be based on wire service summaries of the fight.

KVAN said it would risk court action, if necessary, to test its constitutional press freedom rights.

The West Coast station said it defied an IBC blackout last year for a Marciano-Walcott fight and never heard anything about it from the IBC.

Most Major League Pilots Seem Secure

Redlegs, Cleveland, Cubs Listed Doubtful

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP) — The signing of Freddie Hutchinson to lead the Detroit Tigers again next year leaves only one vacant and two doubtful spots in the major league managerial picture for 1954.

The only vacancy is at Cincinnati where Coach Buster Mills is filling in until a successor can be named for Rogers Hornsby.

The two doubtful spots are in Cleveland and Chicago. Indian Manager Al Lopez is scheduled to meet with Hank Greenberg, Cleveland's general manager, at which time Lopez' status for '54 will be discussed.

Phil Cavaretta's contract as manager of the Chicago Cubs expires at the end of this season. The Cubs, with high hopes of a first division finish, will wind up a dismal seventh. Owner Phil Wrigley has made no statement on Cavaretta's future.

An Associated Press report that Lopez would leave Cleveland for Cincinnati next year received a "no comment" from President Gabe Paul of the Redlegs. Greenberg, however, issued a statement praising Lopez. If Lopez and Grenberg agree to part, Al undoubtedly will sign up as Cincinnati manager.

If the Lopez switch to Cincinnati falls through, Paul will make another effort to entice Jim Turner, pitching coach of the New York Yankees, to manage the Redlegs next year. Paul had received a negative reply from Yankee officials in his first attempt.

All other managerial jobs appear to be secure.

Jim Wilt To Get Starting Nod At End For LaSalle

Jimmy "Radar" Wilt, substitute end who scored twice for LaSalle's Explorers against Petersburg last week, will get the starting nod from Coach Norman Geatz Friday when the North Centre Streeters tackle Tack Clark's big Keyser High eleven at Fort Hill Stadium.

Geatz said last night his starting lineup would be Wilt and Phil Geatz at ends, Leo Franklin and Bill Dove at tackles, Jack Long and Ricky Harris at guards, Ronald Lennox at center; Denny Shuck at quarter, Bobby Christ and Ken Lowery at the halfs and Harold Hudson at fullback.

LaSalle, vying for win No. 2 this season, will sport white jerseys against the Golden Tornado which has captured two straight decisions.

30,000 College Athletes Insured

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23 (INS)—Nearly 30,000 college athletes will be covered by the NCAA's intercollegiate group insurance program during next year.

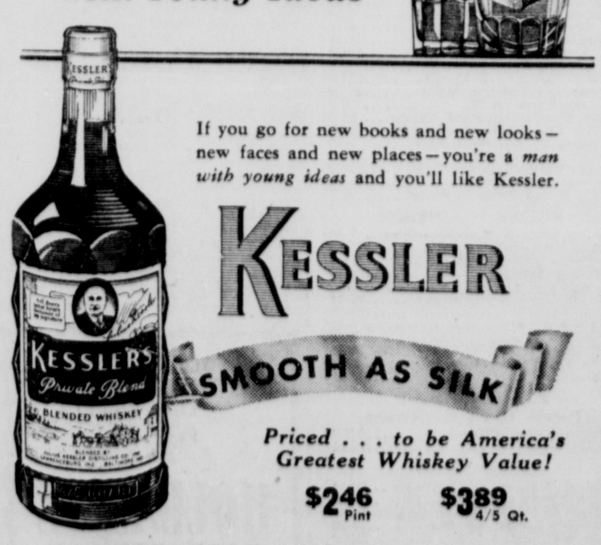

Executive director Walter Byers, who made the announcement today, said 148 colleges and universities have enrolled the athletes in the program which was begun a year ago when 24,000 participated.

Willie Troy KOs Lee Sala In Fifth

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) — Willie Troy, a promising young Washington middleweight, knocked out veteran Lee Sala of Pittsburgh tonight in the fifth round of their nationally televised fight.

The 21-year-old Troy gave his more experienced opponent, a second boxing lesson with a steady barrage of body blows that softened him up for the kayo punch, a wicked left hook that flattened Sala at 2:09 of the fifth round.

Umpires Protest "Attacks" By Fans, Players At Games

Phil Beall Struck By Franklin Man During League Tilt

Fans and players are fast turning area baseball and softball games over to the "people in the stands" members of the Tri-State Umpires Association claim following several incidents where the arbiters were manhandled or threatened during the course of their work.

Latest incident reported was a fracas at Franklin, W. Va., where Umpire Phil Beall was struck by an enraged fan after calling an "interference play" at the plate in a game between Romney and Franklin in the South Branch Valley League.

Fans Swarm On Field

The umps who handled the game said about 100 fans swarmed onto the field after the decision was made early in the game which Franklin won 9-6. Beal was hit in the face by one man and Fred Clark and John Laughlin both were threatened with bodily harm before the matter was straightened out with the help of the players from the two teams.

Beall last night said although he knew who had struck him he would not prosecute because the man was elderly "and drunk." The victim of the attack also said he would not file an official report with the Tri-State Umpires Association on the matter since the season was so near its end and because players on the two teams were not involved.

When asked if he would have forfeited the game to Romney had not the disturbance been quelled, Beall answered, "Yes, I would have forfeited the game immediately if any players had been involved. But both teams were very helpful in providing protection to myself and my colleagues and got the disturbance settled within 10 or 15 minutes."

John Laughlin, who was working the bases during the game, said the attack was "unprovoked" and came about after Beall had ruled a Franklin runner out at the plate because of interference by a Franklin batter.

Can't Fight Back

"We have no way of fighting back," Laughlin continued. "Our association has tried to improve each year and we do the best of our ability, but if these attacks by fans and players, also, continue, then the game will go back to the people in the stands for umpires."

All the arbiters agreed there was virtually no police protection during most of the games and at Franklin there are no fences or stands to keep the fans in line.

"It's very discouraging," one arbiter put it. "We're supposedly getting away from violence that was noticeable in years past but it is cropping up again. Most of the trouble comes at home fields which are not enclosed."

Beall, who is a Korean veteran and student at Potomac State College, said he was not hurt during the mixup and was able to continue behind the plate for the remainder of the game.

Threatened To Withdraw

This latest fracas brings to mind an earlier threat of the Tri-State Association to withdraw its umpires from area baseball and softball leagues because of lack of "police protection" and backing by league officials.

The incident came about when several players and managers jostled an umpire handling a benefit softball game. Other reports during the year have brought to the attention of the association facts that arbiters have been struck and threatened by players during the heat of a game.

While association officials had made no plans concerning future assignments, most were agreed the umpiring group would take drastic steps if the bodily harm threat is not curtailed fast.

BEST LINEMAN — George Reynolds, scrappy 138-pound guard on the Allegany High School eleven, has been named Knight of Columbus "Lineman of the Week" for his stellar play against Patterson Park's Clippers when the Campers lost Saturday, 12-6. George is one of Coach Roy Lester's returning regulars, and his bang-up defensive play and excellent blocking was instrumental in Allegany's good showing against the Baltimore City champs. Reynolds thus joins Backs Bob Andrews of Fort Hill and Eddie Joyce of Allegany and End Phil Geatz of LaSalle for contention as Player of the Year.

Colts Release Tom Cosgrove

Professional Grid Team Drops Four

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Four players, two of them rookies, got the axe today as the Baltimore Colts' squad was cut to the National Football League limit of 33.

Among the four put on waivers was Tom Cosgrove, an outstanding center for Jim Tatum at the University of Maryland last year. He had been considered one of the nation's top professional prospects.

The others cut were halfback Rex Baumgardner, who played seven years of pro ball after finishing at West Virginia University; Keith Flowers, a famous end from Texas Christian, and Gern Nagler, a rookie from Santa Clara.

There was immediate speculation that Cosgrove, whom the Colts got from the Cleveland Browns for a draft choice, and Flowers might be picked up by the Washington Redskins, whom the Colts beat 9-3 in an exhibition here Sunday.

At the same time, the Colts placed fullback Zollie Toth on the injured list for a month. The big fullback broke his jaw in Sunday's game.

A replacement for Toth was acquired from the Philadelphia Eagles. He is John Huzvar, formerly of North Carolina State, Pittsburgh and Georgia.

32,000 Expected To See Title Bout Tonight

Heavy Champ Remains 4-1 Ring Favorite

45 Theaters To Carry LaStarza-Marciano Fight At 9:30 EST

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, heavyweight champion of the world one year today, remained a 4 to 1 favorite to turn back the challenge of ex-collegian Roland LaStarza tomorrow night before 32,000 at the Polo Grounds.

New York's first heavyweight title fight in two and a half years scheduled for 9:30 p.m. (EST) will not be seen on home television. There will be no blow-by-blow radio accounts, although the radio stations will be permitted to broadcast brief summaries at the end of each round.

A network of 45 theaters in 34 cities will beam the 15-round match across the nation to theaters and drive-ins by Theater TV which has guaranteed the International Boxing Club a minimum of $100,000.

$350,000 Gross Seen

The most reliable forecasts call for a gross gate of about $350,000. Jim Norris, IBC president said advance receipts for "over $250,000 with a chance of a final gate of $400,000 or better. The weather man predicted a clear warm day with a high of 70 and the high 50s by ringtime.

The boxing experts were lined up behind the champ almost to a man. Few expected the bout to go the limit.

LaStarza, normally an overcautious boxer, has been training at Greenwood Lake, N. Y. as though he meant to carry the fight to the champion. When he beat Dan Bucceroni in a rematch last year, he moved inside and smothered the long range power of the rangy Philadelphia boy. Roland, 26-year-old son of a Bronx butcher, still remembers Rocky as a clumsy slugger with a long, overhand right.

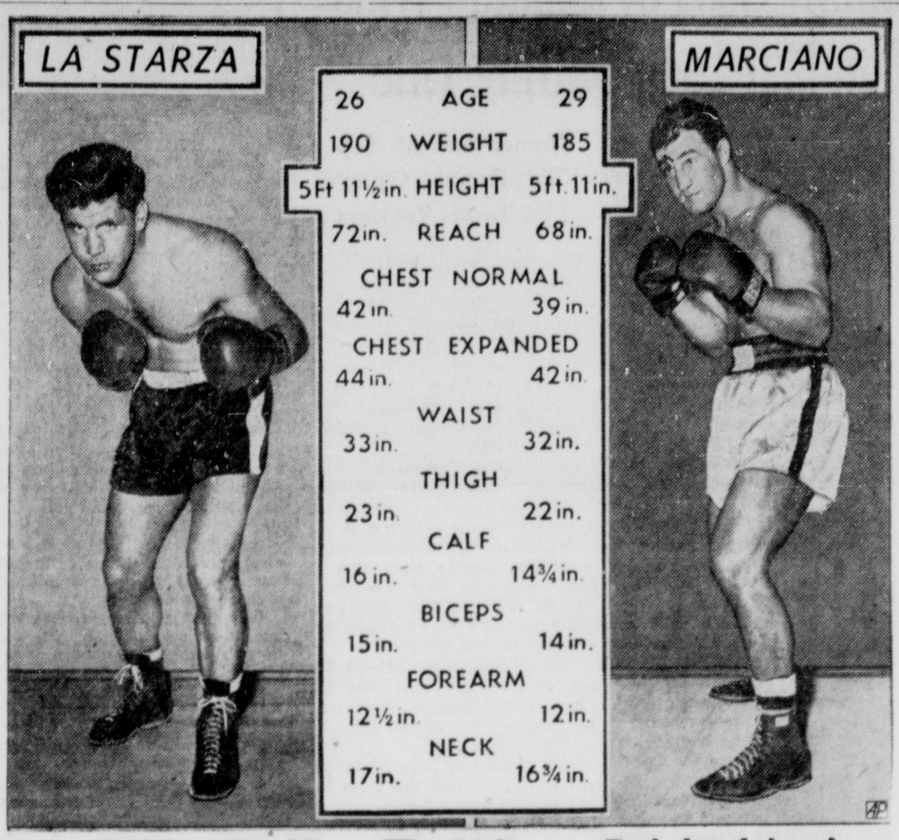

It was the long right that dropped LaStarza in their first meeting Mar. 24, 1950 when Marciano won a disputed split decision. Rocky went on to win the title Sept. 23, 1952 by knocking out Jersey Joe Walcott in the 13th round at Philadelphia.

Has Shortened Punches

Marciano no longer is the lumbering, awkward puncher who throws only haymakers. Trainer Charley Goldman and Manager Al Weill have shortened his punches, sent him into a crouch and taught him the semblance of a boxing style.

The pick here is Marciano on a knockout in eight.

This will be Marciano's second defense and his 45th fight in an unbeaten career. He has scored 39 knockouts and was down only once—for a four-count in the first round of his first fight with Walcott. LaStarza's career record, also dating back to 1947, is 53-3 for 56 pro fights since he left the Golden Gloves and City College. He never was stopped but has been down five times.

Cats Take Bus For Tech Game

39 Make Trip For Friday Engagement

KEYSER, W. Va. — The Potomac State Catamounts left by chartered bus this morning for Montgomery, W. Va., where they will meet the strong West Virginia Tech team Friday night. There were 39 in the party including two managers and Coach Dana Lough.

The team was all in good condition with the exception of the quarterbacks who have not recovered from injuries received last week. Fred Lee, who started last week's game, is suffering from a bruised muscle in his leg and will not start against Tech. Don Hobbs has not recovered from a sprained ankle received in early season practice and may see only limited action in the Tech game. Ed Egan has been running at quarter this week and may be drafted into service for Friday's game.

Coach "Horse" Lough would not make any predictions about the game except to say, "We have been working very hard and the boys are just as anxious as I am to redeem ourselves after last Saturday's game."

The Catamounts return to Stayman Field next week for their traditional game against the George Washington Junior Varsity. This game is being sponsored by the Upper Potomac Shrine Club, as a Civic activity for the promotion of Potomac State College.

The Phillies picked up their first tally in the first inning as Richie Ashburn and Earl Torgeson singled and Marv Grissom wild pitched, Ashburn scoring.

In the fifth Johnny Wyrostek walked and Roberts singled after Willie Jones forced Wyrostek. Ted Kazanski forced Roberts and then Ashburn singled to left, scoring Jones with the winning run.

Terps Drill Hard For W & L Contest

COLLEGE PARK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Maryland's football team got another bruising scrimmage and peppery talk from Coach Jim Tatum today in a three-hour workout for Saturday's home opener against Washington and Lee.

"They've got 11 great men and that's enough to beat you," Tatum warned his Terrapins in a half-hour talk preceding a 2½ hour scrimmage session.

He referred to scouting reports received yesterday on the General's 47-0 victory over Shepherd College last Saturday, which praised the showing of the W.&L. first team.

A handicap to Maryland's reserve strength Saturday may come in the quarterback spot where promising sophomore Lynn Beightol of Cumberland, Md. is still sidelined with a bruised rib. He rehurt the rib in yesterday's scrimmaging.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs, who have finished sixth in the National League in each of the last three seasons, clinched at least that position again today as they scored a run in the last of the ninth to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 4-3.

IBC Withdraws Ban To Permit Summary

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—The International Boxing Club's (IBC) ban on round-by-round broadcasts of tomorrow night's Marciano-LaStarza heavyweight championship fight was upset today by a small, foreign language radio station here.

A court ruling gave station WOV the right to broadcast round-by-round in the past tense. No restriction was placed on its right to make such a broadcast from a rooftop overlooking the Polo grounds fight scene or anywhere else outside the park.

In the light of the court ruling, the IBC withdrew its original ban on round-by-round, to permit a brief, past tense summary at the end of each round. Few stations were expected to take advantage of it, however, at this late date.

IBC sold the rights to televise the fight in 45 theaters in 34 cities outside of New York for $100,000. Then it tried to limit broadcasts to a 75-word summary after every three rounds.

Meanwhile, in Vancouver, Wash., radio station KVAN went even further than WOV and planned to re-create the fight blow-by-blow with sound effects in open defiance of the IBC. The re-creation will be based on wire service summaries of the fight.

KVAN said it would risk court action, if necessary, to test its constitutional press freedom rights.

The West Coast station said it defied an IBC blackout last year for a Marciano-Walcott fight and never heard anything about it from the IBC.

Redlegs, Cleveland, Cubs Listed Doubtful

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP) — The signing of Freddie Hutchinson to lead the Detroit Tigers again next year leaves only one vacant and two doubtful spots in the major league managerial picture for 1954.

The only vacancy is at Cincinnati where Coach Buster Mills is filling in until a successor can be named for Rogers Hornsby.

The two doubtful spots are in Cleveland and Chicago. Indian Manager Al Lopez is scheduled to meet with Hank Greenberg, Cleveland's general manager, at which time Lopez' status for '54 will be discussed.

Phil Cavaretta's contract as manager of the Chicago Cubs expires at the end of this season. The Cubs, with high hopes of a first division finish, will wind up a dismal seventh. Owner Phil Wrigley has made no statement on Cavaretta's future.

An Associated Press report that Lopez would leave Cleveland for Cincinnati next year received a "no comment" from President Gabe Paul of the Redlegs. Greenberg, however, issued a statement praising Lopez. If Lopez and Grenberg agree to part, Al undoubtedly will sign up as Cincinnati manager.

If the Lopez switch to Cincinnati falls through, Paul will make another effort to entice Jim Turner, pitching coach of the New York Yankees, to manage the Redlegs next year. Paul had received a negative reply from Yankee officials in his first attempt.

All other managerial jobs appear to be secure.

Jim Wilt To Get Starting Nod At End For LaSalle

Jimmy "Radar" Wilt, substitute end who scored twice for LaSalle's Explorers against Petersburg last week, will get the starting nod from Coach Norman Geatz Friday when the North Centre Streeters tackle Tack Clark's big Keyser High eleven at Fort Hill Stadium.

Geatz said last night his starting lineup would be Wilt and Phil Geatz at ends, Leo Franklin and Bill Dove at tackles, Jack Long and Ricky Harris at guards, Ronald Lennox at center; Denny Shuck at quarter, Bobby Christ and Ken Lowery at the halfs and Harold Hudson at fullback.

LaSalle, vying for win No. 2 this season, will sport white jerseys against the Golden Tornado which has captured two straight decisions.

30,000 College Athletes Insured

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23 (INS)—Nearly 30,000 college athletes will be covered by the NCAA's intercollegiate group insurance program during next year.

Executive director Walter Byers, who made the announcement today, said 148 colleges and universities have enrolled the athletes in the program which was begun a year ago when 24,000 participated.

Willie Troy KOs Lee Sala In Fifth

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP) — Willie Troy, a promising young Washington middleweight, knocked out veteran Lee Sala of Pittsburgh tonight in the fifth round of their nationally televised fight.

The 21-year-old Troy gave his more experienced opponent, a second boxing lesson with a steady barrage of body blows that softened him up for the kayo punch, a wicked left hook that flattened Sala at 2:09 of the fifth round.

Umpires Protest "Attacks" By Fans, Players At Games

Phil Beall Struck By Franklin Man During League Tilt

Fans and players are fast turning area baseball and softball games over to the "people in the stands" members of the Tri-State Umpires Association claim following several incidents where the arbiters were manhandled or threatened during the course of their work.

Latest incident reported was a fracas at Franklin, W. Va., where Umpire Phil Beall was struck by an enraged fan after calling an "interference play" at the plate in a game between Romney and Franklin in the South Branch Valley League.

Fans Swarm On Field

The umps who handled the game said about 100 fans swarmed onto the field after the decision was made early in the game which Franklin won 9-6. Beal was hit in the face by one man and Fred Clark and John Laughlin both were threatened with bodily harm before the matter was straightened out with the help of the players from the two teams.

Beall last night said although he knew who had struck him he would not prosecute because the man was elderly "and drunk." The victim of the attack also said he would not file an official report with the Tri-State Umpires Association on the matter since the season was so near its end and because players o the two teams were not involved.

When asked if he would have forfeited the game to Romney had not the disturbance been quelled, Beall answered, "Yes, I would have forfeited the game immediately if any players had been involved. But both teams were very helpful in providing protection to myself and my colleagues and got the disturbance settled within 10 or 15 minutes."

John Laughlin, who was working the bases during the game, said the attack was "unprovoked" and came about after Beall had ruled a Franklin runner out at the plate because of interference by a Franklin batter.

Can't Fight Back

"We have no way of fighting back," Laughlin continued. "Our association has tried to improve each year and we do the best of our ability, but if these attacks by fans and players, also, continue, then the game will go back to the people in the stands for umpires."

All the arbiters agreed there was virtually no police protection during most of the games and at Franklin there are no fences or stands to keep the fans in line.

"It's very discouraging," one arbiter put it. "We're supposedly getting away from violence that was noticeable in years past but it is cropping up again. Most of the trouble comes at home fields which are not enclosed."

Beall, who is a Korean veteran and student at Potomac State College, said he was not hurt during the mixup and was able to continue behind the plate for the remainder of the game.

Threatened To Withdraw

This latest fracas brings to mind an earlier threat of the Tri-State Association to withdraw its umpires from area baseball and softball leagues because of lack of "police protection" and backing by league officials.

The incident came about when several players and managers jostled an umpire handling a benefit softball game. Other reports during the year have brought to the attention of the association facts that arbiters have been struck and threatened by players during the heat of a game.

While association officials had made no plans concerning future assignments, most were agreed the umpiring group would take drastic steps if the bodily harm threat is not curtailed fast.

BEST LINEMAN — George Reynolds, scrappy 138-pound guard on the Allegany High School eleven, has been named Knight of Columbus "Lineman of the Week" for his stellar play against Patterson Park's Clippers when the Campers lost Saturday, 12-6. George is one of Coach Roy Lester's returning regulars, and his bang-up defensive play and excellent blocking was instrumental in Allegany's good showing against the Baltimore City champs. Reynolds thus joins Backs Bob Andrews of Fort Hill and Eddie Joyce of Allegany and End Phil Geatz of LaSalle for contention as Player of the Year.

Colts Release Tom Cosgrove

Professional Grid Team Drops Four

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Four players, two of them rookies, got the axe today as the Baltimore Colts' squad was cut to the National Football League limit of 33.

Among the four put on waivers was Tom Cosgrove, an outstanding center for Jim Tatum at the University of Maryland last year. He had been considered one of the nation's top professional prospects.

The others cut were halfback Rex Baumgardner, who played seven years of pro ball after finishing at West Virginia University; Keith Flowers, a famous end from Texas Christian, and Gern Nagler, a rookie from Santa Clara.

There was immediate speculation that Cosgrove, whom the Colts got from the Cleveland Browns for a draft choice, and Flowers might be picked up by the Washington Redskins, whom the Colts beat 9-3 in an exhibition here Sunday.

At the same time, the Colts placed fullback Zollie Toth on the injured list for a month. The big fullback broke his jaw in Sunday's game.

A replacement for Toth was acquired from the Philadelphia Eagles. He is John Huzvar, formerly of North Carolina State, Pittsburgh and Georgia.

Lopat, Shantz Seem Fit Again, Yanks Win 3-1

Eddie Being Groomed For World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Eddie Lopat proved fit for a World Series assignment today, pitching eight-hit ball through seven innings as the New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 3-1.

The veteran southpaw showed no effects of his instep injury suffered last week, permitting a run in the sixth inning as he registered his 16th triumph of the season against four losses.

Bobby Shantz started for the Athletics, and though beaten, was equally happy with the result. The little lefthander, taking his first turn on the mound since he hurt his shoulder Aug. 2, hurled three innings and made only one mistake. He grooved a fast ball which Don Bollweg poled into the right field stands in the second inning to put the Yankees in front, 1-0.

Tribe Clinches Second Place

Doby Hits Homerun; Chicago Loses 8-3

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians clinched second place in the American League race today by beating the Chicago White Sox, 8 to 3, in the final game of the season at Comiskey Park.

It was the third straight year the Indians had finished in the runner up position and the ninth time in history, equalling a mark shared by the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers.

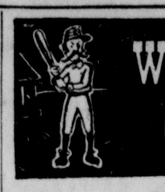

Larry Doby's 29th home run broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning to give Bob Lemon the decision over Saul Rogovin.

THE GREAT UPSET

ONE OF the great "comebacks" in any single World Series contest came in the fourth game between the Cubs and Athletics at Philadelphia on Oct. 12, 1929.

At the end of the first half of the seventh, the Cubs led, 8 to 0. Charlie Root had held the A's to two hits.

Then it happened.

Al Simmons, first up for the A's in the last half, hit a home run. Four straight singles followed. Then came an out and then another single. Four runs were home. Root was relieved by Artie Nehf. Two runners were on and the first man to face him smacked a double and two more tallies were in, making it 8 to 6.

That was all for Nehf, and "Sheriff" Blake took up the burden, the batting order starting around for the second time in the frame. Nehf passed a batter and again there was two on.

Blake was greeted by Simmons and Foxx with successive singles, scoring two more runners to tie it up, 8 and 8.

Blake was yanked, Pat Malone supplanting him.

First thing Pat did was to hit a batter with a pitched ball, after which Jimmy Dykes hit a two-bagger, two more A's scurrying over the platter to put the home boys ahead 10-to-8. Malone ended the onslaught by fanning Joe Boley and George Burns, the latter having served twice in the inning as a pinch-hitter, being retired both times.

The Cubs used five hurlers during the melee, the A's four.

A notable feat was that of reliefer Rube Walburg who retired Charlie Grimm, Jim Taylor and Malone on three pitched balls.

Cards Give $75,000, Players For Hurler

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—Pitcher Guillermo Luna of San Diego, Calif., Pacific Coast League's earned run leader, was acquired by the St. Louis Cardinals today in a deal believed to involve a large amount of money.

The Cardinals announced they "paid cash plus players acceptable to both clubs and to be named at a later date." Unofficial reports placed the cash sum involved at more than $75,000.

The 23-year-old Mexican lefthander, who had been sought by several major league clubs, compiled a 17-10 won-lost record and a 2.69 earned run average with the sixth-place San Diego club that finished last in team hitting.

Grecian Queen Sysonby Entry

Tom Fool Is Favored To Cop Belmont Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Tom Fool is expected to have some company in the $50,000 Sysonby Mile Saturday at Belmont Park in spite of the absence of Native Dancer, but it will be a battle for second money of $10,000.

With the Dancer, 3-year-old king out of action, the champ of the 3-year-old fillies—Grecian Queen—was listed today as a probable starter.

Grecian Queen, owned by Mrs. Ben F. Whitaker, has won five major stakes this year.

Tom Fool, undefeated this year in eight races, has been burning up the track in workouts.

"I expect we'll start Cold Command in the race," said Syl Veitch, trainer of the C. V. Whitney horses.

Morris Dixon, trainer of C. M. Mahlon Kline's Kaster, is expected to enter this speedy gelding. Kaster scored an upset victory Monday in the Fall Highweight Handicap at Belmont.

Another possibility for the Sysonby is the Hampton Stable's durable Alerted.

Jimmy Goss Of Zihlman Wins Pen-Mar Loop Batting Title

Pounds Ball At .456 Clip; Donald Carey's 11-3 Leads Twirlers

Collecting 26 hits in 57 trips to the plate, Jimmy Goss of Zihlman won the batting championship of the Pen-Mar Baseball League for the 1953 season with an average of .456.

Jack Brant, Barrelville, was the runner-up with .422 while Albert Kennell, Wellersburg, finished third with .415.

Don Hansel, league secretary, announces that a player must participate in 75 per cent of the games to qualify for the batting title.

In addition to leading the league in hitting, Jimmy Goss was the home run king with five circuit wallops to his credit. Bill Burke, Zihlman, and Albert Kennell, Wellersburg, rapped three each.

"Ozzie" Nelson and Pete McKenzie, of Keyser Ridge, and Tom Hare and Kenneth Lowery, Meyersdale, led in two base hits with five each.

Tom Dunn and Jack Mort, Keyser Ridge, headed the three-base hitters with four apiece.

Jack Skidmore, Barrelville, paced the base stealers with nine pilfered hassocks while Sam Belcher, Meyersdale, was runner-up with six.

The league's top pitcher was Donald Carey who won eleven and lost three for Meyersdale. He also was the strikeout king with 80 victims to his credit. Charley Aldridge of Barrelville was in second place with seven victories and three defeats. The averages:

Lopat, Shantz Seem Fit Again, Yanks Win 3-1

Eddie Being Groomed For World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Eddie Lopat proved fit for a World Series assignment today, pitching eight-hit ball through seven innings as the New York Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 3-1.

The veteran southpaw showed no effects of his instep injury suffered last week, permitting a run in the sixth inning as he registered his 16th triumph of the season against four losses.

Bobby Shantz started for the Athletics, and though beaten, was equally happy with the result. The little lefthander, taking his first turn on the mound since he hurt his shoulder Aug. 2, hurled three innings and made only one mistake. He grooved a fast ball which Don Bollweg poled into the right field stands in the second inning to put the Yankees in front, 1-0.

Tribe Clinches Second Place

Doby Hits Homerun; Chicago Loses 8-3

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians clinched second place in the American League race today by beating the Chicago White Sox, 8 to 3, in the final game of the season at Comiskey Park.

It was the third straight year the Indians had finished in the runner up position and the ninth time in history, equalling a mark shared by the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers.

Larry Doby's 29th home run broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning to give Bob Lemon the decision over Saul Rogovin.

WORLD SERIES ODDITIES of yesterday by A. H. TARVIN

THE GREAT UPSET

ONE OF the great "comebacks" in any single World Series contest came in the fourth game between the Cubs and Athletics at Philadelphia on Oct. 12, 1929.

At the end of the first half of the seventh, the Cubs led, 8 to 0. Charlie Root had held the A's to two hits.

Then it happened.

Al Simmons, first up for the A's in the last half, hit a home run. Four straight singles followed. Then came an out and then another single. Four runs were home. Root was relieved by Artie Nehf. Two runners were on and the first man to face him smacked a double and two more tallies were in, making it 8 to 6.

That was all for Nehf, and "Sheriff" Blake took up the burden, the batting order starting around for the second time in the frame. Nehf passed a batter and again there was two on.

Blake was greeted by Simmons and Foxx with successive singles, scoring two more runners to tie it up, 8 and 8.

Blake was yanked, Pat Malone supplanting him.

First thing Pat did was to hit a batter with a pitched ball, after which Jimmy Dykes hit a two-bagger, two more A's scurrying over the platter to put the home boys ahead 10-to-8. Malone ended the onslaught by fanning Joe Boley and George Burns, the latter having served twice in the inning as a pinch-hitter, being retired both times.

The Cubs used five hurlers during the melee, the A's four.

A notable feat was that of reliefer Rube Walburg who retired Charlie Grimm, Jim Taylor and Malone on three pitched balls.

Cards Give $75,000, Players For Hurler

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—Pitcher Guillermo Luna of San Diego, Calif., Pacific Coast League's earned run leader, was acquired by the St. Louis Cardinals today in a deal believed to involve a large amount of money.

The Cardinals announced they "paid cash plus players acceptable to both clubs and to be named at a later date." Unofficial reports placed the cash sum involved at more than $75,000.

The 23-year-old Mexican lefthander, who had been sought by several major league clubs, compiled a 17-10 won-lost record and a 2.69 earned run average with the sixth-place San Diego club that finished last in team hitting.

Grecian Queen Sysonby Entry

Tom Fool Is Favored To Cop Belmont Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Tom Fool is expected to have some company in the $50,000 Sysonby Mile Saturday at Belmont Park in spite of the absence of Native Dancer, but it will be a battle for second money of $10,000.

With the Dancer, 3-year-old king out of action, the champ of the 3-year-old fillies—Grecian Queen—was listed today as a probable starter.

Grecian Queen, owned by Mrs. Ben F. Whitaker, has won five major stakes this year.

Tom Fool, undefeated this year in eight races, has been burning up the track in workouts.

"I expect we'll start Cold Command in the race," said Syl Veitch, trainer of the C. V. Whitney horses.

Morris Dixon, trainer of C. M. Mahlon Kline's Kaster, is expected to enter this speedy gelding. Kaster scored an upset victory Monday in the Fall Highweight Handicap at Belmont.

Another possibility for the Sysonby is the Hampton Stable's durable Alerted.

Collecting 26 hits in 57 trips to the plate, Jimmy Goss of Zihlman won the batting championship of the Pen-Mar Baseball League for the 1953 season with an average of .456.

Jack Brant, Barrelville, was the runner-up with .422 while Albert Kennell, Wellersburg, finished third with .415.

Don Hansel, league secretary, announces that a player must participate in 75 per cent of the games to qualify for the batting title.

In addition to leading the league in hitting, Jimmy Goss was the home run king with five circuit wallops to his credit. Bill Burke, Zihlman, and Albert Kennell, Wellersburg, rapped three each.

"Ozzie" Nelson and Pete McKenzie, of Keyser Ridge, and Tom Hare and Kenneth Lowery, Meyersdale, led in two base hits with five each.

Tom Dunn and Jack Mort, Keyser Ridge, headed the three-base hitters with four apiece.

Jack Skidmore, Barrelville, paced the base stealers with nine pilfered hassocks while Sam Belcher, Meyersdale, was runner-up with six.

The league's top pitcher was Donald Carey who won eleven and lost three for Meyersdale. He also was the strikeout king with 80 victims to his credit. Charley Aldridge of Barrelville was in second place with seven victories and three defeats. The averages:

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By WALTER L. JOHNS

YOU'D HAVE to have more than a crystal ball to pick the winner of the Western Conference football race this fall but since it's a customary practice for the so-called expert to do his picking after making a swing around the circuit, here goes:

PURDUE
MICHIGAN STATE
OHIO STATE
MINNESOTA
MICHIGAN
IOWA

With an eye toward the first week's results, jammed with upsets, we'll probably be looking for excuses for the above within a few weeks. Actually, of course, we have more time than that for Purdue, which finished second and just missed the Rose Bowl trip last year, has until October 17 to get ready for its first Big Ten foe, Wisconsin, while the others, except Wisconsin, swing into action earlier.

South Branch Knights To Ride

ELKINS, W. Va.—"Charge, Sir Knights!" This command will herald another Mountain State Forest Festival Riding Tournament, a feature of the state's annual autumnal celebration since its beginning in 1930.

Hardy riders from the South Branch of the Potomac country are proud of the manner in which ancient sport of tournament riding has been preserved in their area since the earliest colonial days. They look upon the Forest Festival as an opportunity to demonstrate it to huge crowds each year.

Riding tournaments have their roots back in the days of chivalry, coming into popularity when mortal combats were finally discredited. In early colonial days they became popular in many sections of the United States but are now preserved in but a few localities, the South Branch Valley of the Potomac being one.

Tournament, or ring, riders gallop over a given course and spear suspended rings with their long lances, the winner finally spearing rings of no more than half an inch in diameter.

The winning knight then crowns the lady of his choice as the Queen of Love and Beauty which may be his best girl or, if married, quite often his wife.

There are records of tournaments held in what is now West Virginia as early as 1851 and no one knows just when they began in the American colonies.

Hansel Bazzle of Elkins, chairman of this Festival feature, said today that a large number of riders will bring their favorite mounts to the Festival tournament which will be held at 9 a. m. the second day of the three-day celebration.

Navy Asks Help In Getting Back Lost Live Shells

The Navy is again asking the Keyser, W. Va., Police Department for help in getting back several live 40 mm. shells which disappeared after an ammunition truck overturned on U. S. Route 50 near New Creek last month.

Rear Admiral I. N. Kiland, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, said the Navy doesn't want to prosecute any souvenir hunters who may have picked up shells, but merely wants the dangerous projectiles taken out of circulation.

The accident happened August 12. The trucking firm which had contracted to haul the shells later succeeded in recovering most of the ammunition. Some, however, still are not accounted for.

Police Chief Guy F. Clem said officers will pick up the deadly souvenirs if people who have them will telephone the police station. Police then will turn the shells over to government authorities.

Keyser Kiwanis Club Plans National Kids Day Program

KEYSER — With the aid of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of Keyser, Kid's Day will be observed on the last Saturday in September as is done each year by Kiwanis Clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii. It is at this time that Kiwanians everywhere ask the citizens of the home cities of the clubs to give something toward helping Kiwanis Clubs look after the underpriviledged children in the communities.

In Keyser, the local Kiwanians, with the aid of both boys and girls of the scouting groups, will make door to door calls and will have others workers on the streets in the business district with little cups to solicit from the public any sum of money individuals may wish to give toward helping the kids.

Each contributor will be given a button to be worn showing he or she has contributed to the aid of some school boy or girl who is unable to help himself or herself.

The Keyser Club, for the past three years, has been aiding some of the underpriviledged students in the local schools by providing hot school lunches. In making this provision it is done in a manner nobody outside of the head of the lunch program knows about, but some students who might not be able to pay for lunches will benefit from the program.

Two years ago the Kiwanis Club was able to give material help, but the past year fewer children were provided free lunches because the fund was reduced on Kids' Day last September. It is through the donations made by citizens of Keyser lunches for worthy students are provided and Kiwanis Club members give their time in planning for Kids' Day and working many hours for the purpose. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will call at homes and be on the street soliciting donations, to be dropped into the receptacle each will carry for that purpose. Each solicitor will wear a "Kids' Day" streamer across his chest, and each will be provided with buttons to pin on each person making a donation.

Two committees of Kiwanians have charge of the program, as follows: Underpriviledged Child Committee, composed of Herbert Harman, chairman; Dakin Morehouse, Richard Davis, Arnold Sliger, W. A. "Mike" Wenner and Kenneth Matlick. Boys and Girls Committee: Robert Whitlach, chairman; Paul Iverson, Herbert Harman, William Stafford and George Mitchell.

For Sale. Rifle 30-06, model 70 Winchester; large Gas Heater; 10 room double block house in Eckhart $2400; 6 room house with 5 lots $5600, Parkersburg Road, Eckhart. Phone Frostburg 637.

South Branch Knights To Ride

ELKINS, W. Va.—"Charge, Sir Knights!" This command will herald another Mountain State Forest Festival Riding Tournament, a feature of the state's annual autumnal celebration since its beginning in 1930.

Hardy riders from the South Branch of the Potomac country are proud of the manner in which ancient sport of tournament riding has been preserved in their area since the earliest colonial days. They look upon the Forest Festival as an opportunity to demonstrate it to huge crowds each year.

Riding tournaments have their roots back in the days of chivalry, coming into popularity when mortal combats were finally discredited. In early colonial days they became popular in many sections of the United States but are now preserved in but a few localities, the South Branch Valley of the Potomac being one.

Tournament, or ring, riders gallop over a given course and spear suspended rings with their long lances, the winner finally spearing rings of no more than half an inch in diameter.

The winning knight then crowns the lady of his choice as the Queen of Love and Beauty which may be his best girl or, if married, quite often his wife.

There are records of tournaments held in what is now West Virginia as early as 1851 and no one knows just when they began in the American colonies.

Hansel Bazzle of Elkins, chairman of this Festival feature, said today that a large number of riders will bring their favorite mounts to the Festival tournament which will be held at 9 a. m. the second day of the three-day celebration.

Navy Asks Help In Getting Back Lost Live Shells

The Navy is again asking the Keyser, W. Va., Police Department for help in getting back several live 40 mm. shells which disappeared after an ammunition truck overturned on U. S. Route 50 near New Creek last month.

Rear Admiral I. N. Kiland, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, said the Navy doesn't want to prosecute any souvenir hunters who may have picked up shells, but merely wants the dangerous projectiles taken out of circulation.

The accident happened August 12. The trucking firm which had contracted to haul the shells later succeeded in recovering most of the ammunition. Some, however, still are not accounted for.

Police Chief Guy F. Clem said officers will pick up the deadly souvenirs if people who have them will telephone the police station. Police then will turn the shells over to government authorities.

Keyser Kiwanis Club Plans National Kids Day Program

KEYSER — With the aid of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of Keyser, Kid's Day will be observed on the last Saturday in September as is done each year by Kiwanis Clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii. It is at this time that Kiwanians everywhere ask the citizens of the home cities of the clubs to give something toward helping Kiwanis Clubs look after the underprivileged children in the communities.

In Keyser, the local Kiwanians, with the aid of both boys and girls of the scouting groups, will make door to door calls and will have others workers on the streets in the business district with little cups to solicit from the public any sum of money individuals may wish to give toward helping the kids.

Each contributor will be given a button to be worn showing he or she has contributed to the aid of some school boy or girl who is unable to help himself or herself.

The Keyser Club, for the past three years, has been aiding some of the underprivileged students in the local schools by providing hot school lunches. In making this provision it is done in a manner nobody outside of the head of the lunch program knows about, but some students who might not be able to pay for lunches will benefit from the program.

Two years ago the Kiwanis Club was able to give material help, but the past year fewer children were provided free lunches because the fund was reduced on Kids' Day last September. It is through the donations made by citizens of Keyser lunches for worthy students are provided and Kiwanis Club members give their time in planning for Kids' Day and working many hours for the purpose. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will call at homes and be on the street soliciting donations, to be dropped into the receptacle each will carry for that purpose. Each solicitor will wear a "Kids' Day" streamer across his chest, and each will be provided with buttons to pin on each person making a donation.

Two committees of Kiwanians have charge of the program, as follows: Underprivileged Child Committee, composed of Herbert Harman, chairman; Dakin Morehouse, Richard Davis, Arnold Sliger, W. A. "Mike" Wenner and Kenneth Matlick. Boys and Girls Committee: Robert Whitlach, chairman; Paul Iverson, Herbert Harman, William Stafford and George Mitchell.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23—(INS)—Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, who always said they wanted to co-star again if they could find the right story, are considering "Passport," which will be directed and produced by Nick Ray in Venice early next year.

Nick, who directed other Bogart pictures, has already signed Pier Pasenetti, writer and professor of world literature at UCLA, to prepare the treatment.

"Passport" is the story of a man without a passport who lives on a tourist ship operating between Venice and Trieste. Neither Italy nor France will land him and he lives the life of a man without a country.

The hardest working of all working goils, and I mean Barbara Stanwyck (who else?) returns to the scene of the crime movies she does so well in "Witness To Murder" starting October 15.

It's Chester Erskine's original story and production for United Artists, and Roy Rowland will direct.

The early starting date just about gives Barbara time to finish "Executive Suite" at MGM and put on a fresh make-up before reporting for the suspense-melodrama.

No longer does Bert Friedlob have to worry about finances for "Untamed." 20th Century-Fox has taken over Helga Moray's story of the South African wilderness and will make it.

And here's something. William A. Bacher is back in the picture. It was he who first bought the Moray novel. He'll co-produce with Friedlob.

Talbot Jennings has completed the script for a February 15 starting date. Most of "Untamed" will be shot in South Africa, and although Maureen O'Hara, Eleanor Parker and Jennifer Jones have been mentioned for the starring role, I have a great big hunch that Susan Hayward is the girl.

Raymond Burr was so frustrated waiting for the role of Marcellus in "The Robe," that he gained over 100 pounds. Now he's lost his weight and, of course, lost Marcellus to Richard Burton, but he gained himself an international romance.

I must say, his romance with Mari Tagore, daughter of a Ceylonese princess, sounds like a page from the Arabian Nights. Mari is in Ensenada aboard her yacht. Burr will go to see her and make plans to marry her when he arrives in London after he finishes "Gorilla At Large."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dick Haymes flew in himself from Las Vegas to get the letter which Nora Eddington Haymes signed making it possible for him to marry Rita Hayworth tomorrow. Bob Eaton handed over the letter at the airport. It's rumored Eaton will get the Jackson Leighter spot in Beckwith pictures. He deserves it.

The Hollywood press photographers costume ball is set for Nov. 14 at the Mocambo.

Jack Entratter in town for the day, took a look at Jerome Courtland at the Crescendo and will probably sign him for The Sands.

Eleanor Harris has been assigned by Reader's Digest to write a profile on Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

Stopped in to hear Dorothy Dandridge on her last night at the Mocambo. Jimmy McHugh, in town for the day to transcribe his new TV show, introduced me to Senator John Kennedy of Boston and his pretty bride, who were at the Mo. The senator told me they had been in Mexico and were leaving for San Francisco.

Johnny Johnston, who opened at Charley Foy's last night, was at Larry Finley's. Charley Foy was there also, as well as Wally Seawell with Jane Wooster.

Had quite a night of it and now my Cinderella slippers have fallen off and I'm going to stay home—perhaps.

John Wayne is giving a party for the opening of Estelita at the Cocoanut Grove next Tuesday. He was best man at her wedding to Grant Withers.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here's a daily-double in exercise to keep a feminine figure lovely through a lifetime.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let's face it. If succumbing to the craze for "crazy" pants is your pleasure, the better your figure, the better you will look. That's just another way of saying that you need a neat waistline and streamlined hips.

If these are not two of your assets at the moment, they will be soon if you are willing to go through a few gyrations daily. And if you are, you will not only cut a most-admired figure in your at-home attire but you'll be looking your best in anything and everything that you wear. And so here's the one and two of what's best to do:

Middle Whittler

1. "Waisting away" will be accomplished if you run through this routine a half-dozen times a day at the start and build up to a dozen as quickly as possible: Lie flat on the floor, arms extended straight out above your head. Keep them in that position while you come to a sitting position. Then s-t-r-e-t-c-h your left hand to touch your right toe. Return to your lying position as slowly as you can. In doing this, you will feel a tug in your abdomen, a waist-whittling tug. Now come up again to a sitting position and this time touch your right hand to your left toe. A tough stint? Yes, but you want to whittle your middle as quickly as possible, don't you?

Hip Slimmer

2. Hip slimming is what you'll be doing if you perform this exercise for five minutes each morning and evening: Stand next to a fairly heavy chair, one that will act as a substantial support. Put your right hand on it as you stand to the left of the chair. Now kick your left leg high out in front. Keeping it high, twist it out to the side and reach around with it as high as you can in back. Finish with another kick, high up in front and straight back, trying to touch your foot to your head. Now step around to the opposite side of the chair and rest your left hand on it. Kick high out in front with your right foot. Keeping it as high as you can, stretch it around and up in back. Again, finish with a kick, high up in front and as high as you can in back, arching your back as you complete the kick. There's a plus in this exercise—besides streamlining your hips, it will help to put panther-like grace into your walk!

Any charmer who chooses these two exercises as her daily-double for lifetime will have the figure that every woman wants. What's more, she'll keep it!

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem — whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation! For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow: Making a good impression.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23—(INS)—Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, who always said they wanted to co-star again if they could find the right story, are considering "Passport," which will be directed and produced by Nick Ray in Venice early next year.

Nick, who directed other Bogart pictures, has already signed Pier Pasenetti, writer and professor of world literature at UCLA, to prepare the treatment.

"Passport" is the story of a man without a passport who lives on a tourist ship operating between Venice and Trieste. Neither Italy nor France will land him and he lives the life of a man without a country.

The hardest working of all working goils, and I mean Barbara Stanwyck (who else?) returns to the scene of the crime movies she does so well in "Witness To Murder" starting October 15.

It's Chester Erskine's original story and production for United Artists, and Roy Rowland will direct.

The early starting date just about gives Barbara time to finish "Executive Suite" at MGM and put on a fresh make-up before reporting for the suspense-melodrama.

No longer does Bert Friedlob have to worry about finances for "Untamed." 20th Century-Fox has taken over Helga Moray's story of the South African wilderness and will make it.

And here's something. William A. Bacher is back in the picture. It was he who first bought the Moray novel. He'll co-produce with Friedlob.

Talbot Jennings has completed the script for a February 15 starting date. Most of "Untamed" will be shot in South Africa, and although Maureen O'Hara, Eleanor Parker and Jennifer Jones have been mentioned for the starring role, I have a great big hunch that Susan Hayward is the girl.

Raymond Burr was so frustrated waiting for the role of Marcellus in "The Robe," that he gained over 100 pounds. Now he's lost his weight and, of course, lost Marcellus to Richard Burton, but he gained himself an international romance.

I must say, his romance with Mari Tagore, daughter of a Ceylonese princess, sounds like a page from the Arabian Nights. Mari is in Ensenada aboard her yacht. Burr will go to see her and make plans to marry her when he arrives in London after he finishes "Gorilla At Large."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Dick Haymes flew in himself from Las Vegas to get the letter which Nora Eddington Haymes signed making it possible for him to marry Rita Hayworth tomorrow. Bob Eaton handed over the letter at the airport. It's rumored Eaton will get the Jackson Leighter spot in Beckwith pictures. He deserves it.

The Hollywood press photographers costume ball is set for Nov. 14 at the Mocambo.

Jack Entratter in town for the day, took a look at Jerome Courtland at the Crescendo and will probably sign him for The Sands.

Eleanor Harris has been assigned by Reader's Digest to write a profile on Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

Stopped in to hear Dorothy Dandridge on her last night at the Mocambo. Jimmy McHugh, in town for the day to transcribe his new TV show, introduced me to Senator John Kennedy of Boston and his pretty bride, who were at the Mo. The senator told me they had been in Mexico and were leaving for San Francisco.

Johnny Johnston, who opened at Charley Foy's last night, was at Larry Finley's. Charley Foy was there also, as well as Wally Seawell with Jane Wooster.

Had quite a night of it and now my Cinderella slippers have fallen off and I'm going to stay home—perhaps.

John Wayne is giving a party for the opening of Estelita at the Cocoanut Grove next Tuesday. He was best man at her wedding to Grant Withers.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

E B T B I O R N L N A W D'I T B H Q N V X
L O N E V X O V W O E' V F B G N A A B H
N E V M A Y N R B A O P O N E — X O I V B.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: IS LOVE A LIE, AND FAME INDEED A BREATH; AND IS THERE NO SURE THING IN LIFE—BUT DEATH?—LE GALLIENNE.

Here's a daily-double in exercise to keep a feminine figure lovely through a lifetime.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Let's face it. If succumbing to the craze for "crazy" pants is your pleasure, the better you will look. That's just another way of saying that you need a neat waistline and streamlined hips.

If these are not two of your assets at the moment, they will be soon if you are willing to go through a few gyrations daily. And if you are, you will not only cut a most-admired figure in your at-home attire but you'll be looking your best in anything and everything that you wear. And so here's the one and two of what's best to do:

Middle Whittler

1. "Waisting away" will be accomplished if you run through this routine a half-dozen times a day at the start and build up to a dozen as quickly as possible: Lie flat on the floor, arms extended straight out above your head. Keep them in that position while you come to a sitting position. Then s-t-r-e-t-c-h your left hand to touch your right toe. Return to your lying position as slowly as you can. In doing this, you will feel a tug in your abdomen, a waist-whittling tug. Now come up again to a sitting position and this time touch your right hand to your left toe. A tough stint? Yes, but you want to whittle your middle as quickly as possible, don't you?

Hip Slimmer

2. Hip slimming is what you'll be doing if you perform this exercise for five minutes each morning and evening: Stand next to a fairly heavy chair, one that will act as a substantial support. Put your right hand on it as you stand to the left of the chair. Now kick your left leg high out in front. Keeping it high, twist it out to the side and reach around with it as high as you can in back. Finish with another kick, high up in front and straight back, trying to touch your foot to your head. Now step around to the opposite side of the chair and rest your left hand on it. Kick high out in front with your right foot. Keeping it as high as you can, stretch it around and up in back. Again, finish with a kick, high up in front and as high as you can in back, arching your back as you complete the kick. There's a plus in this exercise—besides streamlining your hips, it will help to put panther-like grace into your walk!

Any charmer who chooses these two exercises as her daily-double for lifetime will have the figure that every woman wants. What's more, she'll keep it!

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem — whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation! For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow: Making a good impression.

WHAT WAS HIS MOTIVE?

WHENEVER your partner makes a move which seems unusual, it is up to you to ask yourself what was his motive. Unless you do that, and bob up with the correct answer, it is unlikely that you will co-operate with him in the way that is necessary to make his action pay. But, when two defensive players, working together in close harmony, manage by understanding each other to defeat an otherwise makeable contract, they furnish one of the prettiest examples of skillful teamwork the game affords.

	♠ J 6 3 ♥ 9 6 ♦ K Q 10 5 ♣ A 10 6 3
♠ None ♥ Q J 10 3 2 ♦ A 8 6 2 ♣ J 9 8 4	N W E S	♠ K 7 5 2 ♥ A K 8 ♦ 9 4 3 ♣ Q 7 2
	♠ A Q 10 9 8 4 ♥ 7 5 4 ♦ J 7 ♣ K 5

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	2 ♠	Pass

Identical bidding, and identical play for the first five tricks, came on that deal at two tables of a big duplicate. In each case the heart Q was overtaken by the K, the A scored and the 8 returned for the dummy to ruff. One West asked himself why West made that third play and the other didn't. After it the spade J and Q were finessed, whereupon South led the diamond J. Right then came the difference in play.

Where West had not divined his partner's purpose, the A was played on that trick and the heart 10 returned for South to ruff after dummy and East discarded diamonds. The diamond 7 was led to the K, and the Q was ruffed by South. That shortened his trumps so that he had only two left, the A-10 over East's K-7. Following the club K and A, the declarer led the club 10. East had to use a trump before South, so was trapped by the grand coup.

At the other table, when the diamond J was led to the sixth trick, West played the 2 and let South have the trick. He came in with his A on the second diamond. That prevented South from reaching dummy, ruffing a diamond to shorten his trumps, then return to dummy to lead through East on the next to last trick. South therefore was obliged to wind up with three trumps in his own hand, so eventually had to lead to East, who was thus enabled to get the setting trick with his spade K.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A Q J 9 6 ♥ 6 3 ♦ K J 10 6 5 ♣ 8
♠ 10 ♥ A 9 8 7 5 2 ♦ A 9 2 ♣ 9 5 3	N W E S	♠ K 7 5 3 ♥ Q 4 ♦ 8 3 ♣ J 10 7 4 2
	♠ 8 4 2 ♥ K J 10 ♦ Q 7 4 ♣ A K Q 6

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

If the opponents did no bidding and West opens the heart 7, East playing the Q, how should South seek his 5-No Trumps?

Phone Company, Union Agree On Wage Boost

Increases Will Affect 4,300 Employes

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company announced last night a contract agreement with the CIO's Communications Workers providing $1.50-$2.50 a week wage boosts for maintenance, clerical and repair workers in Maryland.

The increases affect 4,300 workers and eventually will be passed on to the public in the form of higher rates, the company said.

Union representative J. Lawrence Monoghan confirmed the contract was approved at 6 p.m. and said members had already agreed to the terms.

It replaces an agreement which expired July 22.

C. & P. telephone operators in Maryland who have an independent union had earlier approved a new contract.

The company announcement said "We are glad that an agreement on wages and other matters has been reached between the telephone company and the union."

W. Griffin Morrel, vice president of the C. & P., said the new contract brings top wage rates in Baltimore to $100 a week for plant craftsmen and $70.50 for service representatives.

"The new contract provides basic wage increases of $1.50, to $2.50 a week. These increases bring our top wage rate in Cumberland to $89.50 a week for plant craftsmen, such as cable splicers, central office, and PBX men; $64.50 a week for service representatives. These rates are increased by extra pay for overtime and night work. Telephone employes receive regularly scheduled increases from the time they start work until they reach the top rates for each job.

Rates vary with other sections of the state.

The announcement added:

"The public has a real stake in this settlement. The new wage increases, together with the increases recently granted the employes represented by the Maryland Telephone Union, will, of course, show up eventually in telephone bills.

"The company has no other means of paying its wage bills so telephone rates must reflect any sizeable increase in the costs of providing service.

The firm called the contract "fair to our employes, who are entitled to good wages."

The agreement brings to an end "hit-and-run" strike tactics which the union has been using sporadically during drawn-out negotiations for a new contract. There had been sporadic picketing at several Maryland exchanges Monday and Monoghan had indicated then the strikes would continue until agreement was reached.

The union had sought increases ranging from $2 to $3 a week. Tonight's agreement came within 24 hours after a similar settlement in Washington affecting 7,000 CWA employes in the capital and its suburbs.

Clarysville Gets New Fire Engine

The Clarysville Volunteer Fire Company's brand-new 500-gallon pumper engine is shown as it was delivered to the company a few days ago. On the fender is Herbert Knepp, a trustee of the company. Indiana, Famed For Indians And Autos, Was 19th State

By ALBERT D. DARBY JR.

Indiana, "Land of the Indians," was the 19th state when it was admitted to the union December 11, 1816, and consequently is being featured in the current Cumberland Free Public Library exhibit which previously had publicized the first 18 states.

The state is considered well named because many Indian tribes migrated there after their Eastern homes had been taken by the white man. Nicknamed the "Hoosier State," the term is believed derived from the Anglo-Saxon word "Hoozer" which means hill dwellers.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian here, has accumulated many interesting facts about Indiana. Its history insofar as the white man is concerned dates back to when LaSalle explored the northern part of what now is the state in 1679. Fathers Marquette and Allouez. French missionaries, established missions for the Indians there.

Captured From British

First permanent settlement was founded at Vincennes in 1732 by French fur traders. The territory was ceded to the British in 1763. Vincennes was captured from the British February 24, 1779, by a band of American frontiersmen led by George Rogers Clark. This victory gave the Americans control over the northwest. After independence, farmers from the South and East followed rivers into the territory and established settlements.

A number of battles had to be fought with the Indians. General Anthony Wayne defeated the Miamis at the Battle of Fallen in 1794. The final battle against the Indians was won by General William Henry Harrison in 1811.

Financial troubles plagued the state in 1816 when it was admitted to the union. Its real growth began about 1850 when the National Road, started here in Cumberland in 1806, was completed across Indiana and railroads first reached the state.

Now Indiana ranks 12th among the states in population with 3,943,224 inhabitants although the state has only 36,291 square miles, 37th in that respect.

The Studebaker Brothers came to Indiana in 1852 and began to build farm wagons and prairie schooners as the predecessor of the present automobile business. Elwood Haynes built one of the first successful automobiles in 1894 at Kokomo. Indiana inventions include the Gatling gun, 1862; the first gasoline pump, 1885; the first saxophone, 1888, and the first gas refrigerator 1926.

Manufactures Steel

The world's largest oil refinery, cement plant and steel mill all are located in Indiana. A large part of the steel manufactured in the United States comes from the Lake Michigan area in the vicinity of Gary. It is probably natural with so much automobile manufacturing in Indiana that the annual auto race of national importance on Memorial Day is run on the famous Indianapolis Speedway.

Culturally Indiana has a great tradition. It is proud of excellent primary and secondary schools and its many colleges and universities. There are four teachers'

53 Students At Teacher College Begin Practice

Apply Theory In 15 Area Schools

Fifty-three senior students at Frostburg State Teachers College are practice-teaching in Allegany and Garrett county schools this year, according to Miss Arline G. Petry, director of practice at the college.

Many of the future teachers are practicing at the College Laboratory School on the campus. Others are teaching in junior high or elementary schools off-campus.

Through an arrangement worked out with Ralph R. Webster, Allegany County superintendent of schools, and R. Bowen Hardesty, Garrett school superintendent, several more schools have been opened to the practice teachers.

The students who are now practicing are members of a Senior Class group which will spend the first half of this semester and the next teaching.

For the remaining nine weeks in each semester, they will return to the classroom for more courses in method, and for elective subjects.

Other seniors at the college are attending classes during the first nine weeks of each semester, and will put their knowledge to work by practice-teaching during the second nine weeks.

Once a week, the student teachers meet at the college with their supervisors for a group conference. Supervisors are Dr. Harold Reese, for elementary schools; Mrs. Charles L. Kopp, for off-campus schools, and Miss Petry, for junior high schools.

Schools where the students are practicing include Fort Hill, Allegany, Pennsylvania Avenue, Johnson Heights, John Humbird and West Side, all in Cumberland; Beall High and Beall Elementary in Frostburg; Barton, LaVale, Bruce and Cresaptown, and Grantsville, Southern High and Northern High in Garrett County.

Cars Will Be Tagged With Safety Poem

Drivers who park their cars on downtown streets this month will find under their windshield wipers a brief safety message which is being distributed in connection with the Police Department's drive for safe driving in school zones.

The message reads:

When You Drive
Slow Up
Let Children
Grow Up

City policemen and members of the various School Patrol units are distributing the messages in the hope that more drivers will make it a rule to slow down while passing through school zones, especially at the hours when school begins and dismisses.

Police Commissioner John J. Long and Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, who are coordinating the program, will change the message each month.

Highlights New Program

Long said the messages are a part of a new phase of activity which the department inaugurated only this month — the training and supervision of boys and girls of the School Patrol.

Lt. Raymond R. Johnston, in charge of training the youngsters, is working with school principals in scheduling safety talks at the various schools, and in training the young "assistant policemen."

Johnston also makes a daily tour of all school crossings to make sure things are running smoothly, and to straighten out any rush-hour traffic jams which might develop.

The department has regular patrolmen at the four most hazardous school area intersections: Greene and Allegany, Virginia Avenue and Oldtown Road, North Centre and Valley, and Baltimore Avenue and Marion Street during school rush hours. Officers also watch the section of Oldtown Road near St. Mary's School, and the Dingle Circle.

One of the principal difficulties at school crossings, said Long, is speeding. Close behind this comes dreamy driving.

More Care Needed

"If more drivers will get into the habit of slowing down every time they approach a school crossing or see children on the curbs," he said, "then we'll certainly have fewer accidents."

Long said many of the offenders are teen-age drivers who take family cars or their own vehicles to school, and always seem to be in a hurry on both trips.

"Many of these young drivers are very careful," said Long. "But a great number of them don't seem to realize that showing off or being in a hurry is being a dangerous driver. We hope their parents realize it."

The School Patrol training program, which includes all public and parochial schools in the city, got started last week when Long conferred with members of the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers, who asked the Police Department to take over the training of the patrols.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, helped set up the program and has assured Long of the Board of Education's interest in the idea.

Long said plans also call for selection each month of an outstanding patrol unit for citation, to provide further incentive for the junior policemen.

Social Welfare Leaders Arrange 10 Institutes

Two persons well known in Cumberland and Allegany County helped draw up the program for 10 institutes covering various aspects of social work practice which will be sponsored by the Maryland State Conference of Social Welfare in Baltimore Thursday, October 22.

She is now chief of the Division of Licensing of Children's Institutions and Agencies of the State Department of Welfare. Rev. Isaac, former pastor of First Methodist Church in Frostburg, is now general superintendent of the Board of Child Care of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Eleanor Westerfeld, director of the County Welfare Department, said that some of the case workers in her department are hoping to attend the institute.

Daytime Blaze Destroys House In Rawlings

Family Loses All Furniture, Clothing

Fire of undetermined origin yesterday afternoon destroyed the six-room frame house of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Mills at Rawlings.

Lost with the house were all of its furnishings and all the clothing of the Mills family except what was being worn. An out building used as a wash house also went up in smoke, neighbors reported. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

Mrs. Mills had a fire burning in a wood stove in the home but she had no idea whether that might have caused the blaze.

No one was in the dwelling when the fire started about 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Mills and her baby were visiting one of her married daughters, Mrs. Anna Evans, who lives nearby. Three other children were at school in Cresaptown. Mills has been working in Hagerstown. He has been coming home only on weekends.

Temporarily, members of the Mills family will reside with Mrs. Evans and other neighbors in the community along McMullen Highway.

Members of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Department rushed in two fire trucks to the Rawlings residence but by the time they had made the nine-mile trip the house was virtually destroyed. The more than 10 Cresaptown firemen on hand kept the blaze from spreading to other nearby homes. They stayed at the scene about 45 minutes.

The one-and-one-half story house was located on the southeast side of the highway about one mile from the Rawlings Post Office.

Garrett County Boys Face Trial In Assault Case

Criminal Charges To Be Heard Monday

Three Friendsville teenagers charged with assaulting a 20-year old girl from their community are scheduled for trial in Garrett County Circuit Court Monday as criminal trials get underway.

The youths, according to State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover, are Walter Friend, 18; Larry Lawson, 17, and his brother, Marlin Lawson, 18. They are accused of assaulting the young woman last March 29.

Also scheduled for trial Monday is Guy C. McCrobie, 48, of near Vindex, accused of assaulting his brother-in-law, Claude Rohrbaugh, 62, also of near Vindex, June 28 with intent to kill him. Rohrbaugh was a patient for several days in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., for treatment of back wounds.

Two Garrett County men accused of non-support also were indicted by the Grand Jury and are expected to be tried Monday. Hanson Friend, about 35, of near Oakland, is charged with non-support of four minor children ranging in ages between six and 14. Stover contends that this non-support has continued over a period of about four-and-one-half years.

John H. Devine of Friendsville faces trial on a charge of desertion and non-support of his wife, Helen. The state's attorney reports that this condition has continued for about nine months.

Petit jurors have been summoned to be in the court room at Oakland at 9:15 a. m. Monday. Besides the four criminal trials, several appeals also are docketed. Stover hopes to complete the trials Monday but they may continue into Tuesday.

Phone Company, Union Agree On Wage Boost

Increases Will Affect 4,300 Employes

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company announced last night a contract agreement with the CIO's Communications Workers providing $1.50-$2.50 a week wage boosts for maintenance, clerical and repair workers in Maryland.

The increases affect 4,300 workers and eventually will be passed on to the public in the form of higher rates, the company said.

Union representative J. Lawrence Monoghan confirmed the contract was approved at 6 p.m. and said members had already agreed to the terms.

It replaces an agreement which expired July 22.

C. & P. telephone operators in Maryland who have an independent union had earlier approved a new contract.

The company announcement said "We are glad that an agreement on wages and other matters has been reached between the telephone company and the union."

W. Griffin Morrel, vice president of the C. & P., said the new contract brings top wage rates in Baltimore to $100 a week for plant craftsmen and $70.50 for service representatives.

"The new contract provides basic wage increases of $1.50, to $2.50 a week. These increases bring our top wage rate in Cumberland to $89.50 a week for plant craftsmen, such as cable splicers, central office, and PBX men; $64.50 a week for service representatives. These rates are increased by extra pay for overtime and night work. Telephone employes receive regularly scheduled increases from the time they start work until they reach the top rates for each job.

Rates vary with other sections of the state.

The announcement added:

"The public has a real stake in this settlement. The new wage increases, together with the increases recently granted the employes represented by the Maryland Telephone Union, will, of course, show up eventually in telephone bills.

"The company has no other means of paying its wage bills so telephone rates must reflect any sizeable increase in the costs of providing service.

The firm called the contract "fair to our employes, who are entitled to good wages."

The agreement brings to an end "hit-and-run" strike tactics which the union has been using sporadically during drawn-out negotiations for a new contract. There had been sporadic picketing at several Maryland exchanges Monday and Monoghan had indicated then the strikes would continue until agreement was reached.

The union had sought increases ranging from $2 to $3 a week. Tonight's agreement came within 24 hours after a similar settlement in Washington affecting 7,000 CWA employes in the capital and its suburbs.

Indiana, Famed For Indians And Autos, Was 19th State

By ALBERT D. DARBY JR.

Indiana, "Land of the Indians," was the 19th state when it was admitted to the union December 11, 1816, and consequently is being featured in the current Cumberland Free Public Library exhibit which previously had publicized the first 18 states.

The state is considered well named because many Indian tribes migrated there after their Eastern homes had been taken by the white man. Nicknamed the "Hoosier State," the term is believed derived from the Anglo-Saxon word "Hoozer" which means hill dwellers.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian here, has accumulated many interesting facts about Indiana. Its history insofar as the white man is concerned dates back to when LaSalle explored the northern part of what now is the state in 1679. Fathers Marquette and Allouez, French missionaries, established missions for the Indians there.

Captured From British

First permanent settlement was founded at Vincennes in 1732 by French fur traders. The territory was ceded to the British in 1763. Vincennes was captured from the British February 24, 1779, by a band of American frontiersmen led by George Rogers Clark. This victory gave the Americans control over the northwest. After independence, farmers from the South and East followed rivers into the territory and established settlements.

A number of battles had to be fought with the Indians. General Anthony Wayne defeated the Miamis at the Battle of Fallen in 1794. The final battle against the Indians was won by General William Henry Harrison in 1811.

Financial troubles plagued the state in 1816 when it was admitted to the union. Its real growth began about 1850 when the National Road, started here in Cumberland in 1806, was completed across Indiana and railroads first reached the state.

Now Indiana ranks 12th among the states in population with 3,943,224 inhabitants although the state has only 36,291 square miles, 37th in that respect.

The Studebaker Brothers came to Indiana in 1852 and began to build farm wagons and prairie schooners as the predecessor of the present automobile business. Elwood Haynes built one of the first successful automobiles in 1894 at Kokomo. Indiana inventions include the Gatling gun, 1862; the first gasoline pump, 1885; the first saxophone, 1888, and the first gas refrigerator 1926.

Manufactures Steel

The world's largest oil refinery, cement plant and steel mill all are located in Indiana. A large part of the steel manufactured in the United States comes from the Lake Michigan area in the vicinity of Gary. It is probably natural with so much automobile manufacturing in Indiana that the annual auto race of national importance on Memorial Day is run on the famous Indianapolis Speedway.

Culturally Indiana has a great tradition. It is proud of excellent primary and secondary schools and its many colleges and universities. There are four teachers'

53 Students At Teacher College Begin Practice

Apply Theory In 15 Area Schools

Fifty-three senior students at Frostburg State Teachers College are practice-teaching in Allegany and Garrett county schools this year, according to Miss Arline G. Petry, director of practice at the college.

Many of the future teachers are practicing at the College Laboratory School on the campus. Others are teaching in junior high or elementary schools off-campus.

Through an arrangement worked out with Ralph R. Webster, Allegany County superintendent of schools, and R. Bowen Hardesty, Garrett school superintendent, several more schools have been opened to the practice teachers.

The students who are now practicing are members of a Senior Class group which will spend the first half of this semester and the next teaching.

For the remaining nine weeks in each semester, they will return to the classroom for more courses in method, and for elective subjects.

Other seniors at the college are attending classes during the first nine weeks of each semester, and will put their knowledge to work by practice-teaching during the second nine weeks.

Once a week, the student teachers meet at the college with their supervisors for a group conference. Supervisors are Dr. Harold Reese, for elementary schools; Mrs. Charles L. Kopp, for off-campus schools, and Miss Petry, for junior high schools.

Schools where the students are practicing include Fort Hill, Allegany, Pennsylvania Avenue, Johnson Heights, John Humbird and West Side, all in Cumberland; Beall High and Beall Elementary in Frostburg; Barton, LaVale, Bruce and Cresaptown, and Grantsville, Southern High and Northern High in Garrett County.

Cars Will Be Tagged With Safety Poem

Drivers who park their cars on downtown streets this month will find under their windshield wipers a brief safety message which is being distributed in connection with the Police Department's drive for safe driving in school zones.

The message reads:

When You Drive
Slow Up
Let Children
Grow Up

City policemen and members of the various School Patrol units are distributing the messages in the hope that more drivers will make it a rule to slow down while passing through school zones, especially at the hours when school begins and dismisses.

Police Commissioner John J. Long and Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, who are coordinating the program, will change the message each month.

Highlights New Program

Long said the messages are a part of a new phase of activity which the department inaugurated only this month — the training and supervision of boys and girls of the School Patrol.

Lt. Raymond R. Johnston, in charge of training the youngsters, is working with school principals in scheduling safety talks at the various schools, and in training the young "assistant policemen."

Johnston also makes a daily tour of all school crossings to make sure things are running smoothly, and to straighten out any rush-hour traffic jams which might develop.

The department has regular patrolmen at the four most hazardous school area intersections: Greene and Allegany, Virginia Avenue and Oldtown Road, North Centre and Valley, and Baltimore Avenue and Marion Street during school rush hours. Officers also watch the section of Oldtown Road near St. Mary's School, and the Dingle Circle.

One of the principal difficulties at school crossings, said Long, is speeding. Close behind this comes dreamy driving.

More Care Needed

"If more drivers will get into the habit of slowing down every time they approach a school crossing or see children on the curbs," he said, "then we'll certainly have fewer accidents."

Long said many of the offenders are teen-age drivers who take family cars or their own vehicles to school, and always seem to be in a hurry on both trips.

"Many of these young drivers are very careful," said Long. "But a great number of them don't seem to realize that showing off or being in a hurry is being a dangerous driver. We hope their parents realize it."

The School Patrol training program, which includes all public and parochial schools in the city, got started last week when Long conferred with members of the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers, who asked the Police Department to take over the training of the patrols.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, helped set up the program and has assured Long of the Board of Education's interest in the idea.

Long said plans also call for selection each month of an outstanding patrol unit for citation, to provide further incentive for the junior policemen.

Daytime Blaze Destroys House In Rawlings

Family Loses All Furniture, Clothing

Fire of undetermined origin yesterday afternoon destroyed the six-room frame house of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Mills at Rawlings.

Lost with the house were all of its furnishings and all the clothing of the Mills family except what was being worn. An out building used as a wash house also went up in smoke, neighbors reported. The loss was only partially covered by insurance.

Mrs. Mills had a fire burning in a wood stove in the home but she had no idea whether that might have caused the blaze.

No one was in the dwelling when the fire started about 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Mills and her baby were visiting one of her married daughters, Mrs. Anna Evans, who lives nearby. Three other children were at school in Cresaptown. Mills has been working in Hagerstown. He has been coming home only on weekends.

Temporarily, members of the Mills family will reside with Mrs. Evans and other neighbors in the community along McMullen Highway.

Members of the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Department rushed in two fire trucks to the Rawlings residence but by the time they had made the nine-mile trip the house was virtually destroyed. The more than 10 Cresaptown firemen on hand kept the blaze from spreading to other nearby homes. They stayed at the scene about 45 minutes.

The one-and-one-half story house was located on the southeast side of the highway about one mile from the Rawlings Post Office.

Garrett County Boys Face Trial In Assault Case

Criminal Charges To Be Heard Monday

Three Friendsville teenagers charged with assaulting a 20-year old girl from their community are scheduled for trial in Garrett County Circuit Court Monday as criminal trials get underway.

The youths, according to State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover, are Walter Friend, 18; Larry Lawson, 17, and his brother, Marlin Lawson, 18. They are accused of assaulting the young woman last March 29.

Also scheduled for trial Monday is Guy C. McCrobie, 48, of near Vindex, accused of assaulting his brother-in-law, Claude Rohrbaugh, 62, also of near Vindex, June 28 with intent to kill him. Rohrbaugh was a patient for several days in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., for treatment of back wounds.

Two Garrett County men accused of non-support also were indicted by the Grand Jury and are expected to be tried Monday. Hanson Friend, about 35, of near Oakland, is charged with non-support of four minor children ranging in ages between six and 14. Stover contends that this non-support has continued over a period of about four-and-one-half years.

John H. Devine of Friendsville faces trial on a charge of desertion and non-support of his wife, Helen. The state's attorney reports that this condition has continued for about nine months.

Petit jurors have been summoned to be in the court room at Oakland at 9:15 a. m. Monday. Besides the four criminal trials, several appeals also are docketed. Stover hopes to complete the trials Monday but they may continue into Tuesday.
